ENTENTE ANSWER TO WILSON SENSATIONAL

PEACE NOTE REPLY NEAR

Answer of Allies to President Will Be Delivered Soon.

BE MORE SPECIFIC

Entente Likely to Set Out
Peace Terms in Definite Fashion.

Paris, Jan. 10.—Maurice Huttin, who is well known as a journalist, is authority for the report that the reply of the entente to President Wilson's note will be "ultra sensational" and that its delivery to the president is imminent.

He asserts that the note will be made public as soon as President Wilson has had opportunity to examine it.

WILL BE MORE SPECIFIC.
Entente Said to Have Been Explicit as to Terms.

London, Jan. 10.—The reply of the entente powers to President Wilson's note, asking the belligerents to state the aims for which they are fighting, has now received the approval of all the entente governments and its delivery is about to be made at Paris. Publication of the text of the note, however, will be deferred until four or eight hours after it has been received by the American government. The delay in sending the reply were due to changes suggested by one of the entente powers, but these proved to be largely changes in phraseology and not affecting the essential features of the reply as first drafted in Paris and London.

As now finally framed the reply is considerably longer than was the answer to the German peace proposals and contains approximately 1,200 to 1,500 words. Its statements concerning the terms of the entente powers are more specific than were made in previous communications or official utterances, but they are still general and somewhat guarded in character.

WILL MARRY HER YET, SAYS ARDENT YOUTH

Had Procured License at Hillsdale, Mich., When Restrained.

Wings of telegraph service were swift-er than the speeding jitney auto which took Carl J. Attalla, 16, son of Elias Attalla, 335 Holman street, and Mabel Evans, 824 Huffman street, to Hillsdale, Mich., Tuesday morning, to get married. The couple procured a marriage license and were at the front door of the home of a justice of the peace ready to ask to be joined, when the sheriff halted them, in the name of the law.

The pair were taken to the county jail to wait in the lobby until father of the boy, accompanied by Detective Sergeant Spillner, arrived. The party, consisting of the father, son, the girl, who had almost become a bride, and the police officer, returned to Fort Wayne in the automobile. They jolted along over the rough, frozen roads most of the night. They arrived in Fort Wayne at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The boy and the girl, who parents say is 23 years old, were charged with unlawful possession of an automobile in police court, Wednesday morning. But Elias Attalla had the criminal charge erased from the docket. His son is unduly impetuous, but not a thief, says the father.

His parents and police have started a campaign, which will allow no sleeping moments, if it is to succeed, says Carl Attalla, who appeared in police court, Wednesday, dressed in the modish attire, which he had expected to be his wedding garment. His ardor will wear down the grim determination of combined forces of the law and his parents, Carl says.

"I will marry her when I get a chance," Carl told Judge Kerr. Carl's mother told reporters that her son would not get another such chance to get married. She implied that she would keep an eye on him. She is evidently relying on the miles between Fort Wayne and Michigan to give her time to stop any other wild flights of her son.

"We have a license now," Carl said. "We can get married any place in Michigan, when we get a chance."

"He is too young to marry," his mother told. "The girl is older. Let them wait a while anyway."

Carl has been keeping company with Mabel for eight months, he says. He has made up his mind that she is to be his bride, he tells. How or when he will make the next attempt to reach the Michigan border he refused to communicate to reporters, thereby displaying that he is not without method.

KILLS HIMSELF, BUT OTHERS WILL SURVIVE

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 10.—After attempting to kill his former wife and her male companion by firing four shots at them when he met the couple on an uptown street last night at 11 o'clock, O. E. Smith, a well known young man here, ended his life in a cell at the county jail, where he had been confined. He hanged himself by his belt to a bar of the cell.

Three of the four bullets which Smith fired struck his intended victims, but none hit a vital spot.

MOVE FOR NEW CONSTITUTION

First Proposal Comes Into Legislature as a Non-Partisan Bill.

CALLS CONVENTION

Other Doings of the Indiana Legislature in Brief Session.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 10.—The first proposal for a new constitutional convention in Indiana came with the introduction of a bill for an act, jointly, by Senators Harry Negley, of Marion county, republican, and Abram Simmons, of Adams, white and black, democrat, in the upper house of the general assembly today. It is therefore looked upon as a non-partisan measure. It was referred to the committee on constitutional revision, which meets this afternoon to take up its consideration.

In all fourteen bills were introduced in the senate and seventeen in the house before adjournment was taken to 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Bill is Non-Partisan.
The constitutional measure provides for the non-partisan election of 115 delegates, two from each of the senatorial districts of the state, and fifteen at large, on the third Tuesday of September, 1917. Nomination of candidates for delegates to the convention shall be made by petition only, signed by 200 voters, none of whom shall be permitted to sign more than one petition.

The convention so called shall meet the second Tuesday in January, 1918, under the provisions of the act. On demand of forty-five of the delegates any provision of the constitution then prepared shall be submitted to a popular referendum separately.

The bill provides that the delegates shall be paid a per diem and mileage to be fixed by the convention. It would require that state, county and municipal officials shall furnish all information asked under penalty of $300 for failure to do so. The legislative and administrative branches of the state government are likewise required to supply and collect necessary data, including constitutional information from other states. The Indiana historical commission also shall furnish the secretary of state with

MERCURY DROPS TEN DEGREES IN AN HOUR

Cold Wave is on Its Way and
is Predicted.

In an hour's time, between 7 and 8 o'clock, Wednesday morning, the mercury dropped ten degrees. At 7 o'clock the government thermometer registered 33 degrees, and an hour later it registered 23 degrees. A special warning as the result of a special observation by all weather men Wednesday morning, predicted a cold wave which means a temperature of ten degrees above zero by Thursday morning.

The special observation was taken shortly after eight o'clock Wednesday morning. At 9:30 o'clock the local office was in receipt of a special warning from the chief forecaster's office, predicting the cold wave for tonight with possible snow flurries. Weather appropriate for nearly all the seasons of the year were on the program Wednesday morning. It started to rain some time during the early morning hours. At 5:15 o'clock the rain stopped. The sky was covered with clouds such as are seen in the spring time at 7 o'clock. At 7:10 o'clock snow flurries were in evidence. It stopped snowing at 9:25. The thermometer rose a few degrees at noon but it was predicted that it would start going lower in the afternoon.

BRICK FALLS 49 FEET, STRIKING MAN ON HEAD

James Allard, Employee of Consumers Ice Company
May Die.

As the result of being struck on top of his head by a brick which fell a distance of 49 feet, James Allard, aged 35 years, an employee of the Consumers Ice company, is now lying at the Lutheran hospital at the point of death. The accident occurred Tuesday afternoon near the new building being erected by the ice company on Wells street.

Mr. Allard boards and rooms at 338 Madison street and resides in Paulding, O., coming to this city a year ago. Since that time he had been employed by the Consumers Ice company. During the summer he was a driver on one of the company's wagons. When the erection of the new building started, he assisted in the work.

Tuesday afternoon a wheelbarrow loaded with bricks upset on the top story and the contents fell to the ground. One of the bricks struck Allard on the head. He was rushed to the Lutheran hospital where it was found that he was suffering from a badly fractured skull. Little hope is given for his recovery.

KEY BELONGED TO CUSTODIAL ASYLUM

Employee is Missing After Its Discovery in Dead
Girl's Room.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10.—Oscar Brown, a detective sent to Rome, N. Y., to trace the former possessor of a key found in the apartment of Maizie Colbert, reported to detective headquarters today that it was one used at the Rome custodial asylum and that one of the employees of the institution is missing. Efforts are being made to find this employee to learn if he had information of the key, which was one of a bunch of eight found in the apartment. A re-enactment of the murder, so far as the details of the crime are known, were planned by detectives to learn whether anyone outside the Colbert rooms could have heard quarrelling.

COLD WAVE DUE TO LAST SEVERAL DAYS

Washington, Jan. 10.—A pronounced cold wave of several days' duration is predicted to overspread the middle Atlantic and New England states, the Ohio valley, the lake region and Tennessee Thursday or Friday. The weather bureau sent out a warning announcing that a storm has moved with great rapidity east-south-eastward from the west Canadian provinces to the upper Ohio valley and is being followed by the cold wave. The storm will move eastward. It is causing snows in the Great Lakes region, the upper Mississippi valley and the north plains states and light rains in the middle Atlantic and New England states.

DIES AT HOME OF

Picturesque Character in American History is Gone from Earth.

Denver, Col., Jan. 10.—Col. William Frederick Cody (Buffalo Bill), soldier, hunter and scout, died at 12:05 p. m. here today at the home of his sister.

Col. William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," hunter, soldier, scout and showman, was for many years known to nearly every man, woman, boy and girl in America through his wild west show with which he toured this country and Europe. He was a picturesque type of the pioneer frontiersman and lived to see large cities built where he once hunted the buffalo and fought Indians.

Col. William F. Cody was born in Scott county, Iowa, February 26, 1846. His ancestral stock was Spanish, English and Irish. His parents moved west and took up a claim near Leavenworth, Kansas, then a frontier Indian post, when Cody was five years old. At ten years of age he found himself the head of the family owing to the death of his father who was killed in an encounter growing out of a dispute over the negro slave question. Young Cody's first employment was as a courier between the freight wagon trains operated between the Mis-

HOUSE NOW GETS BILL FOR "DRY" WASHINGTON

Advocates of the Measure Predict Its Passage
There.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The fight for a "dry" national capital was transferred to the house today from the senate where the Sheppard prohibition bill for the District of Columbia, was passed late yesterday by a vote of 55 to 32. Advocates of the measure apparently are confident of favorable action in the house.

As it goes to the house, the bill would abolish saloons in the district and prevent the manufacture or sale of liquors within its limits, but not prohibit their import for personal use. The measure would take effect November 1, next.

Today's War News Given in Summary

Field Marshal von Mackensen rapidly is developing his attack north of Fokshani and already has succeeded in forcing a passage of the Putna, across which the Russians in southern Moldavia retreated after losing the Fokshani bridgehead position, protecting the Sereth line in this important central sector.

Von Mackensen's thrust here apparently has the railroad town of Pantzin for its objective, as Pantzin, which lies some thirteen miles north of Fokshani, is on the short railway line from Terebinth, linking the two north and south lines, running through Moldavia, behind the Russian front.

At last accounts the Teutonic forces were only some five miles from Pantzin, the capture of which would interfere seriously with the movement of Russian troops and supplies to the railway running northwest through central Moldavia, paralleling the Moldavian frontier line.

While the German headquarters' statement today only claims the gaining of a footing on the opposite bank of the Putna, immediately north of Fokshani, the Russians have been cleared entirely from the vicinity of that stream towards the southeast and have been forced to retreat back of the Sereth river itself, the last of their defensive positions along this line. Near the Danube Berlin indicates that suborn counter attacks have been made by the Russians, but declares the Austro-German positions have been maintained against these thrusts. In the battles of the past two days the Teutonic armies have added some 1,450 prisoners to the 5,500 they took in the previous operations around Fokshani.

Considerable importance is attached by entente ally commentators to the offensive the Russians have opened in the Riga region at the northern end of the Russian front, which is believed to have the capture of the important German base of Mitau for its objective. Berlin, however, while conceding that the Russian attacks are developing notable strength, declares that the veritable line in this sector is without success.

MIDGET ACCUSED AS SLAYER HELD SANE

Franklin, Ind., Jan. 10.—Arguments in the case of the state against Ralph Barger, 25, charged with the murder of his father, were heard here today. The case was to go to the jury late today.

The arguments followed the report of a commission appointed by the court to examine Barger to determine his mental condition. The report was that he is sane. Barger appeared in court dressed in girl's clothing. He is less than four feet tall.

Washington, Jan. 10.—After another brief session today, the house rules committee suspended public hearings on Representative Wood's resolution to investigate whether there was a stock market leak on President Wilson's peace note.

No formal action was taken by the committee at its executive session. Members stated, however, that the Wood resolution would be adversely reported to the house.

Whether to recommend specific investigation of Lawson's general charges of stock exchange operations by government officials or a broad inquiry into the stock exchange is the question now being considered.

Bolling Denies It.
R. W. Bolling, a brother-in-law of President Wilson and a member of F. A. Connolly & Co., brokers, Washington, was the first witness at today's hearing. He denied he had anything to do with a "leak."

"I have nothing to say," he said, "except that whoever is responsible for bringing my name into this, Representative Wood, I believe, might send me an apology at the same time that he sends one to Secretary Tamm."

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 10.—Gov. Goodrich today announced the appointment of Marion B. Stults, of Huntington, as a member of the state board of embalmers. He succeeds Clyde E. Titus, of Indianapolis. Both are republicans.

Dr. A. F. Nelson, state veterinarian, today tendered his resignation to Gov. Goodrich. The governor refused to accept it. Dr. Nelson a few days ago paid into the state treasury, under protest, about $11,000 of fees he had collected and about which there was a dispute as to who was entitled to them.

His entire estate has been estimated as worth $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. Among his property holdings was the St. Joseph Valley railroad, which runs from Elkhart to Angola, Ind. SEEK THAW IN MANY CITIES

Police Hunt Man Accused of

ing Young Gump.

MAN ARRESTED NOT THAW'S BODYGUARD

Philadelphia Police Did Not Succeed in Getting O'Byrnes.

New York, Jan. 10.—With the police of many cities searching for Harry K. Thaw, wanted here to answer to an indictment charging him with assaulting and kidnapping Frederick Gump, jr., of Kansas City, Mo., it developed today that the man whom the police of Philadelphia have arrested is not George F. O'Byrnes, Thaw's bodyguard, alleged to have been involved in the enticing of Gump to New York last Christmas. Frank F. Walsh, counsel for the Gump family, consulted the attorney upon his return today from Philadelphia. He informed the prosecutor that the man in custody in that city is Oliver Brower, of Utica, N. Y.

Brower aided Thaw in Utica last October when Thaw conducted a political campaign there against a supreme court justice who had denied Thaw's man who killed Stanford White, a writ of habeas corpus during Thaw's legal fight to obtain his release from the Mattewan state hospital for the insane.

Search in Four Cities.

Police of New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Washington were today searching for Thaw.

Thaw was known to be in Philadelphia Monday, but it was said there he had left Monday night for Washington and that he had intended to leave Washington last night for his home in Pittsburg.

It is charged that Thaw enticed young Gump, who is 19 years old, to a hotel here on Christmas night and beat him with a whip until the youth was covered with bloody welts. Frank F. Walsh, formerly chairman of the federal commission on industrial relations, who is here as attorney for the boy's father, said that Thaw's acquaintance with young Gump goes back to December, 1915. Thaw, he said, had written a number of letters, sent money and offered to pay his tuition at the Carnegie institute in Pittsburg.

Evidence laid before the grand jury here recalled testimony presented at the hearing on Thaw's sanity at White Plains in July in 1909. A New York lodging house keeper said that Thaw before he killed Stanford White lashed girls with a dog whip in a room which he hired at her house.

A man said to be George F. O'Byrnes and described as Thaw's bodyguard, is under arrest in Philadelphia. The man denies he is O'Byrnes.

VERDICT IN "AIR BUBBLE" SLAYING

Young Man is Convicted of Death of 17-Year-Old Sweetheart.

Olney, Ill., Jan. 10.—The jury in the trial of Roy Hinterliter, a young farmer, for the murder of Elizabeth Ratcliffe, his seventeen-year-old sweetheart, returned a verdict of manslaughter early today, after having reported to the court three times for instructions during the early morning hours. The punishment may be from one year to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Hinterliter confessed on the witness stand that the girl's death occurred last July during an attempt at an illegal operation while driving in a buggy with him, but asserted she had used the surgical instruments supplied by him, while he was not with her. He claimed the girl employed the instruments while he went to unhook his horse tied about thirty feet away. He said when he returned to the girl she was unconscious. He believed she had fainted, but he was unable to revive her. He placed her in the buggy and drove to a hospital at Olney, where a physician found that the girl was dead.

The state contended that the death of the girl was caused by air bubbles forced into her veins for the purpose of relieving her condition.

FRANZ BOPP'S CASE NEAR JURY'S HANDS

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 10.—The case of Franz Bopp, German consul general in this city, and four of his attaches or employees, charged with conspiring to destroy munitions consigned to the entente allies, obstruct shipments and otherwise violate United States neutrality, will be in the hands of the jury in the United States district court today.

Argument was completed by opposing counsel yesterday and Judge William H. Hunt was ready when court opened today to instruct the jury. The prosecution has asked for no particular instructions. The defense, however, presented a voluminous request, urging instruction for acquittal on technical grounds.

VICE NET ENMESHES WEALTHY HOTEL MAN

Hoynes Promises to Make Details of Confessions
Public Today.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 10.—Investigation of the alleged police graft "ring" led to the taking into custody early today of Thomas Newbold, wealthy hotel and cafe owner. Macley Hoynes, states attorney, who is conducting the investigation, refused to make public the reason for Newbold's detention but pointed out that several of the hotels controlled by Newbold have been the scene of police raids. Newbold was taken into custody shortly after Mr. Hoynes announced that Thomas Costello and Lieut. Augustus M. White, both under arrest, had confessed, directly connecting Charles C. Healey, chief of police, with the system which he charged levied tribute amounting to thousands of dollars annually, on the underworld. Chief Healey, who was arrested Monday night, charged with extortion, bribery and conspiracy, is free on bonds of $25,000.

Mr. Hoynes promised he would make public the details of the two confessions today. He asserted that Lieutenant White, who recently has commanded the Lake street police precinct, implicated Costello, alleged to be the connecting link between the police and hundreds of vicious resorts in the city and that Costello, in turn, involved Chief Healey in his confession.

While the state's attorney withheld the details of the two confessions he charged that he had learned that, for at least six months, Costello had visited Chief Healey's home on an average of three times weekly, and that on one occasion he was accompanied by Michael Heiter, a police character known as "Mike De Pike," now under arrest in connection with the investigation. He charged also that Costello held daily telephone conversations with the police head and that Chief Healey had visited the alleged graft "payoff" office said to have been maintained by Costello.

Dozens of persons, ranging from notorious police characters to responsible business men, were questioned by Mr. Hoynes and his assistants today and there were unconfirmed rumors that several important witnesses are being detained in a downtown hotel, guarded by operatives of a private detective agency.

Mr. Hoynes announced that he had learned from persons he had questioned that the manipulations of the alleged corruption "ring" were wider than was at first indicated. In addition to numbers of policemen, ranging in rank from patrolmen to captains, he charged, several persons outside police circles are involved. "I haven't even scratched the surface of the graft ring," Mr. Hoynes said today. "The inquiry is still in its infancy. It will take several weeks to get to the bottom of the ring's operations."

Tomorrow will be Healey's last day as chief of police, Mayor William H. Thompson having announced he would send his successor's name to the council tomorrow night. He refused to divulge his name, but asserted his belief that the administration would be pleased with his selection.

Chief Healey resigned, effective Jan. 1, last, but consented to remain in office until Jan. 11 that he might be in charge over New Year's eve.

SAYS GERMANY WILL GET FLEMISH COAST

Predicts Its Possession as Final Outcome of War
Struggle.

London, Jan. 10.—Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German national liberal deputy, in a speech at Hannover on Sunday declared that Germany must emerge from the war in possession of the Flemish coast, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Times. Dr. Stresemann said that Germany, although second strongest economic power in the world and possessing the second strongest merchant fleet, has not a single naval supporting point to serve for defense in war time. "This war has annihilated our world trade," he is quoted as saying. "We have forfeited our colonies and our cruiser squadron is lost. If, therefore, the war ended without something of our former situation altered the consequence for us would be the collapse of our national economy because the German merchant would not again risk seeing all that he had created collapse the day after declaration of war by England. If peace is concluded without Germany's possession of the Flemish coast, England is the winner and we the loser. A neutral Belgium is an historical impossibility after this war."

Dr. Stresemann added that without the future possibility of marching through Belgium the Germans must fight the next war on the Rhine and not in France. He said they looked for a German peace, not one under the protection of a world peace alliance. Such an alliance, he maintained, meant a new Algeiras congress at which Germany would have against her not only her present enemies but a world of neutrals.

LEAPS IN ICY RIVER IN SUICIDE ATTEMPT

Mrs. Carl Clausner Saved by Heroic Plunge of Fred
Black.

Mrs. Carl Clausner, aged 59, 304 Mechanic street, cannot commit suicide. Fred Black, 24, 1210 Huron street, leaped into the icy depths of the St. Mary's river and drew her to safety, after she had dropped beneath the murky surface twice Wednesday, at 9 o'clock. He thwarted her fifth attempt to take her life.

Mrs. Clausner has been ill for two weeks, neighbors say. She was able to be about on Wednesday and talked with neighbor women five minutes before she tried to drown herself. She had complained to city officers about being brutally treated a few days before. Members of her family have kept her under almost constant surveillance since she tried to hang herself from the railing of the Mechanic street bridge three months ago. She was restrained by her daughter at that time just before Mrs. Clausner prepared to leap from the foot bridge, after fastening a clothes line rope about the bridge railing. On other occasions she tried to drown herself in the cistern and tried to take poison, it is declared.

Mrs. Anna Meyers, who lives next door, saw the little, black-haired woman run from the back door of the Clausner home toward the St. Mary's river Wednesday morning. Mrs. Meyers guessed the motive of her neighbor. So Mrs. Meyers ran screaming at the top of her voice to the home of Mrs. Jane Black, two doors away.

"Mrs. Clausner is going for the river," Mrs. Meyers called. Fred Black, who had finished his work as construction laborer at the Electric Light plant, sat by the stove in his mother's home. He did not work Wednesday. At first call of Mrs. Meyers he leaped for the doorway.

He raced like mad towards the bank of the river, fifty yards away. Mrs. Lillie Cox had preceded him and was standing in the icy water up to her knees, reaching for the drowning woman, who was sinking for the second time, just beyond her reach.

Black stopped long enough to pull off his shoes. He realized that a plunge in the water, which is ten feet deep at that point, would mean death if he carried the burden of his shoes, he said.

An eddy, which carried several small cakes of ice on its swirling surface, swept the body of Mrs. Clausner down the steep bank. He plunged headlong into the river. He caught hold of Mrs. Clausner's hair, just as she started to sink for the third time. The struggle to reach the shore was a frantic one. Several times Black's face was immersed in the muddy water. After what seemed ages to his mother, who wrung her hands on the shore, he was able to touch bottom and dragged the limp form of the woman to the bank.

Mrs. Black aided her son in carrying the woman, who was thought to be dying, into the Black home. Police were called. With the life boat swinging at the rear of the big patrol the officers drove at high speed to the scene of the suicide attempt. The St. Joseph hospital. She will recover unless pneumonia is contracted from the extreme exposure, physicians say.

Reporters found Black quietly pulling off his wet socks, behind the stove, in his home, five minutes later. He did not know that already there is talk in the excited neighborhood of appealing to Carnegie to give him "one of them hero medals."

TRYING OUT COIN- WASHING MACHINE

Mint Official Seeking to Make Our Silver Coins
Cleanly.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Director of the Mint von Engelkin is experimenting with a coin washing machine, designed to clean silver coins much after the manner that paper money is laundered at present. The machine is largely Mr. von Engelkin's invention and is designed also to dry and count the coins. Two of them it is believed would be sufficient to care for all the dirty coins in the country, restoring them to their former cleanliness and lustre. Pennies will not be washed by the new machine, but may be colorized by an electrical process which slightly changes their color, making them practically impervious to dirt and hardens them. Thousands of blanks have been struck by the Philadelphia mint and experiments will soon be conducted on a large scale.

The new dimes, because of their slightly concave design, are said to be a dirt catcher without equal in American coins and many badly soiled specimens have already been returned to the mints although they have been in circulation but a short time.

SPEAK TO CIVIC CLUB.

Weisser Park Avenue Residents Are Told of City Planning.

Frank H. Hilgeman, secretary of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange, and Charles Nolan, also of the exchange, spoke at a meeting of 100 civic workers at Zion's Lutheran hall on Weisser Park avenue Tuesday night. Their subject was city planning. Emmet Martin presided at the meeting. The Reservoir park as a site for the convention hall was endorsed. Among the subjects taken up at the meeting was house moving. Members of the Civic club protested against the moving of several houses, considered undesirable, to Weisser Park avenue.

After attending the Civic club meeting both Mr. Hilgeman and Mr. Nolan attended a meeting of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange. Nolan made a report as chairman of the committee on commissions. A communication was read from Will H. Scheinman, urging that all standing committees hold a meeting at least once a month.

WIN VICTORY OVER EPIDEMIC DISEASE

German Army Surgeons Are Making Noteworthy
Showing.

Berlin, Jan. 10.—A noteworthy victory over epidemic diseases in the German armies has been scored during the second year of the war. According to official reports just published the number of cases has dropped from 51 per 1,000 during the first year of the war to a trifle over 38 per 1,000.

The greatest number of patients, 21 1/2 per 1,000, were treated for nervous diseases, due to the strain of battle and particularly of trench warfare under terrific artillery bombardments like those of Champagne, Verdun and the Somme. Pleurisy was responsible for six cases per 1,000; pneumonia, four; tuberculosis, one seventeenth; interis, one fourteenth, and dysentery, one eighteenth. A feature of the report is the absolute disappearance of smallpox and the practical elimination of other scourges like typhus, typhoid and cholera. This is noted in spite of the fact that the armies operated largely among populations suffering extensively from these maladies and under conditions favorable to their spread. The immunity of the soldiers is attributed to vaccination.

The war ministry has made public an appeal on the behalf of war invalids, asking especially that they be given work whenever possible and never "false sympathy, which is likely to be exemplified more and more by the purchase of postal cards and knick-knacks from invalids who have taken to hawking and who are deliberately playing upon sentimental sympathies." The appeal says:

"The state of the financial means are already limited and even with the most favorable peace there will be no prospect for a long time of sufficient wealth to enable the state, wholly or even in large part, to support its invalids. Therefore, charity will not suffice. Work alone uplifts and ennobles, even the poorest work creates and sustains health."

ANTI-FEVER SERUM IS PUT UNDER SUSPICION

Court Orders Inquiry Into Stuff Administered to Troops.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 10.—The anti-typhoid fever serum administered to troops was the subject of investigation today by a board of physicians appointed yesterday in United States district court at Kansas City, Kas., by Judge John C. Pollock. Harry De Bord, a letter carrier, had appeared before the judge to plead guilty to a charge of theft from letters, when he collapsed. De Bord's attorneys attributed his condition to serum injections while he was on the border recently with the Kansas troops. Judge Pollock refused to go on with the trial and ordered the investigation. "If the government's serum treatment resulted in illness it also may have injured his mind," Judge Pollock said. Since three injections of serum were given De Bord while on duty, they asserted, he had been in ill-health.

The doctors appointed on the investigation have agreed to report to Judge Pollock as soon as their work is finished. De Bord, who is 21 years of age, was a private in the First Kansas infantry.

REPEAL OF MINNESOTA BOXING BILL IS ASKED

George Moeller, Who Introduced It, is Greatly
Disgusted

Minneapolis, Jan. 10.—Representative George Moeller of St. Paul, who two years ago introduced the bill providing for the legalizing of boxing in Minnesota, announced yesterday that he would introduce another bill within a few days calling for the repeal of the act. Moeller, who is known as the "father of boxing," declared that he was disgusted with the way the game has been conducted in this state and that, rather than see it continue along the present lines, would prefer to have it killed entirely. Many of the other former supporters of the bill are declared to be of the same mind.

Sensor J. W. Andrews, of Mankato, one of the bill's strongest supporters in the upper house two years ago, has declared himself ready to work for the repeal before that body. "Everything has been wrong," declared Mr. Moeller. "The first misdeed was to limit boxing to only three cities in the state—Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth. Then the commission appointed by the late Governor Hammond arbitrarily limited the number of clubs in each city to one, practically giving the owners of those clubs a monopoly on boxing. Both the commission and the owners of the clubs in the three cities since then have done nothing to improve the game. The boxing when it is conducted right, but not as it is now."

TAKEN SICK ON TRAIN.

William Koontz, Nickel Plate passenger brakeman, is at St. Joseph hospital where he was operated on for appendicitis, which came on suddenly Monday night while he was on No. 5, westbound. He was taken sick soon after he left Bellevue and at Payne, O., the train was held twenty minutes until a physician could be secured. Mr. Koontz was taken off the train here and removed to St. Joseph hospital, where Dr. J. Frank Dineen is attending him. Mr. Koontz resides in Bellevue.

copies of its work for distribution prior to the convention and 20,000 copies of the present constitution shall be printed and distributed. The draft makes an appropriation of $3,000 available for preliminaries April 1, 1917.

Attacks High Living Cost.

Sensor Negley also offered a measure designed to attack the high cost of living. It would prohibit a license fee on all producers of food and clothing or their direct agents, thus tending to encourage direct marketing. The measure went to the cities and towns committee.

Sensor Negley's resolution for an investigation of the relationship of middlemen and consumer was referred to committee on judiciary. Senator Reeser introduced a bill to amend the vocational education act by removing advisory boards from authority over school boards and providing for the elimination of the requirement that study be along lines in which the student is employed. Senator Franklin McCray, of Marion county, revived the plan to abolish capital punishment in the state in one measure and in another proposed that the mechanic's liens on property must be stricken off the record unless satisfied within one year from the date of their filing.

School Board Finances.

Sensor Kinder, of Lake county, presented a measure that would enable school boards to finance themselves temporarily, the same as municipalities, corporations, which would effect a saving in interest charges, he asserts, of 2 per cent. He also offered an amendment to the compensation act which would cause payment to a victim of an industrial accident to start in seven days instead of fourteen. Hagerty, of South Bend, proposed a modification of the public improvement law, which would strike out the requirement calling for concrete foundations for permanently improved streets, permit the improving wherein three-fourths of the affected property owners are willing to be assessed 10 per cent of the value of the property affected or twice the cost now payable, permitting the grading of streets without their permanent improvement and recognizing non-resident property owners as freeholders.

Sensor W. E. English offered an act prohibiting killing of game with an automatic gun. Senator Michael Thornton presented a measure which would prohibit all chairmen of political parties, state, district, county or city, from practicing law before appointive boards and commissions of the state.

AWAIT PLUNDER COMMITTEE.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 10.—Pending the introduction of the prohibition, suffrage and other measures of special interest there was little in prospect in either house of the general assembly today to arouse popular concern.

The assignment of committee rooms today and the getting together of the standing committees was expected to follow another brief session. The second roll call was expected to bring out another batch of local measures and it was believed before the end of the day there might be reports on two or three of the measures presented on the first roll call.

The senate gallery was present in force this morning, awaiting the report of the republican plunder committee, which has had its troubles for several days past. According to Senator White, of Montgomery county, it was necessary to "iron out" a number of obstinate wrinkles before this report was ready for submission. The demands of Marion county politicians, it is believed, were turned down rather pointedly, the Indianapolis city organization, it is said, having in order that the expense budget might be kept within the proper proportion of $100,000, the maximum estimate of the cost of the session, that many party workers were forced to suffer disappointment in their ambition to get sixty day jobs on the state's payroll.

FAILURE FOR WOOD'S PLAN

"When did you receive your first information regarding the president's note?" Representative Henry asked. "When I read it in the newspapers."

"Did you ever receive from any source?" Representative Garrett asked, "any intimation of the president's so-called peace note in advance of its publication?" "Absolutely not."

"Any other member to your firm receive such information?" "Absolutely no member had any advance information." Bolling said he had no knowledge of any official of the government or administration who had profited by stock transactions as a result of the peace note and was accused after a brief examination.

Central News Not Guilty. W. A. Crawford head of the local bureau of Central News of America which supplies news to Financial America, a Wall street paper, read a confidential message he says he sent to his New York office December 20, saying that a note was coming, but that, according to Secretary Lansing, it was not a peace note nor a move for mediation.

"There was absolutely no leak in our service nor from any of its clients," said he. Representative Harrison said he had examined the Central News tapes for Dec. 20 and found nothing indicating that the confidence of Secretary Lansing had been violated. He read from the ticker report of the day several references to Lloyd George's speech in parliament and its effect on the market.

"I have found absolutely nothing in the ticker," said Representative Harrison, "to intimate anything about Secretary Lansing's conference with newspaper men on that date. According to this ticker report it was the Lloyd George speech which affected the market that day."

Crawford read a statement declaring that Central News was not the only news service with financial papers among its clients and he thought it fair since it had been "singled out" in the inquiry that this be known.

The International News Service, he said he was "reliably informed," served the Dow Jones company and that the Associated Press served the New York Journal of Commerce.

"You don't think any of them violated Secretary Lansing's confidence do you?" asked Representative Bennett, of New York.

"Oh no," replied Crawford. "Neither the United Press nor the Associated Press is connected with any ticker service, is it?" Representative Harrison continued. "No," Crawford replied. Representative Henry brought out that Central News had the privilege of a representative on the floor of the house of representatives.

souri river and the Rock mountains. In turn he became wagon master, trapper, hunter, pony express rider and stage coach driver, all giving a varied experience in a school, the graduation from which left the scholar an adept in every possible line of frontier activity.

In Union Army.

In exciting experience in the Union army as a soldier and subsequently as a confident and scout of his commanders in the desolatory and guerrilla warfare of the southwest left him at its finish well known as an all around frontiersman, competent to advise, to guide and to lead. These qualities soon brought him to the attention of such distinguished commanders as Gen. W. T. Sherman, Lieut. Gen. Phil Sheridan and Generals Crook, Custer, Merritt, Carr, Royal Miles, Dodge and others and secured his appointment as chief of scouts in the United States army during its numerous Indian campaigns in the west.

His career in this line identified him with the great fighting epoch between the red man and the white waged by General Sheridan after the Ghost Dance war in the decisive battle of Wounded Knee in the 1890-91 campaign with the Northern Sioux.

Wins His Sobriquet.

During the construction of the Union Pacific railroad young Cody attached himself to a camp of United States troops protecting the laborers and won his sobriquet of "Buffalo Bill" by making a contract to supply the entire force with fresh Buffalo meat for a certain period, killing under one contract 4,280 buffaloes. On one occasion he killed the noted Cheyenne chief, Yellow Hand, in the presence of Indians and troops.

He became known to juvenile America in the stories of western adventure written by E. A. C. Judson, who wrote under the nom de plume of Ned Buntlin.

With the advance of civilization, finding his occupation on the western plains gone, he went on the stage where he remained several years playing leading parts in dramas depicting life on the frontier. Later, in association with Nate Sanny, he organized his wild west show with which he toured this country for many years, and one occasion visited the principal cities of Europe, where he was warmly received and entertained by royalty.

He was elected to the Nebraska legislature in 1872. Colonel Cody, in 1866, was married to Miss Louisa Frederic.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments.

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair.
In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine.
Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over your scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, simply get a 25-cent bottle of Knowl-ton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.—Advertisement.

Bergdoll, aged about 62 years, one of the most prominent farmers living south of lieved to have been an attack of acute indigestion suffered Monday morning.

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn so it lifts out.

You corn-perenced men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezeone applied directly on a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once and soon the corn loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A quarter of an ounce of freezeone costs very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin.—Advertisement.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

ROBBERS GET $50 WORTH OF FLOUR

Haul Is Made at the Plant of the Kendallville Milling Company.

Kendallville, Ind., Jan. 10.—Several weeks ago coal piles in Kendallville were reduced by petty thieves; Monday evening the flour pile at the Kendallville Milling company on Sargent street suffered, when thieves broke into the mill and stole flour valued at between $40 and $50.

According to reports received from Mr. Clark, manager, two barrels of spring wheat flour, two fifty-pound sacks of Snowdrop brand and eight twenty-five-pound sacks of Pride of Kendallville constituted the plunder of the thieves. Whether any corn meal and other feed was stolen is not known, as a considerable amount of the company's product was sacked about the mill.

Entrance to the mill was gained by breaking the windows in the engine room.

GIVES PUBLIC PARK.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weiler Make Donation to Portland.

Portland, Ind., Jan. 10.—Four acres of ground, to be used for public park purposes, have been donated the city by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weiler, prominent Portland residents, according to an announcement made at the regular meeting of the city council. The land is a part of the Wilson estate and is located near the water works station.
The council has planned to beautify the grounds next spring.

The gift came as a complete surprise, it is said, even to the members of the city administration. Mr. Weiler purchased the land several days ago but the transaction was completed only a few hours before council convened.

Mr. and Mrs. Weiler have been instrumental in Portland receiving many gifts of value. Mr. Weiler is a leading business man here and has been prominent in commercial circles. He was instrumental in the city establishing a hospital here. One-third of the total hospital fund, it is said, was donated by him.

urges that all parents in the city, who can, be present and hear his address, which will be of interest to every father and mother. Dr. Hurty is the strongest man the association has yet had to come to the city, and there is hardly a person who would not be pleased to hear him on subjects pertaining to schools and school children.

AND NOW THERE IS A SHORTAGE OF WOOLENS

Evidence Is That the Price of Clothing Will Be Much Higher Next Fall.

NO RELIEF IS IN SIGHT

The alarming shortage of woolems and other materials used in the manufacture of clothing will make wearing apparel very high priced next fall.
The greater part of the woolen crop is imported from Australia. Since the European war began exacting its heavy toll on the woolen market, Australian wool has not entered American ports and the foreign consumption has created an actual woolen famine in this country. The comparatively small amount raised in the United States is inadequate to supply the heavy demands of the American manufacturers.

The shortage does not apply to woolens alone, but it applies to every article used in the manufacture of clothing, consequently good clothing has advanced rapidly and will continue to do so at an alarming rate.
Dealers here state that even if the war should stop suddenly there is every indication that woolen materials would continue to soar for some time, and there seems to be no relief in sight.

The accompanying newspaper clipping gives an inkling of the clothing situa-

34 O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.
35 A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things.
36 But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment.

Political Lines Not Drawn

The United States senate's passage, by a vote of 55 to 32, of the Sheppard bill to abolish saloons in the District of Columbia after November 1 next is no less interesting as an accomplished fact than by the obliteration of party lines in its achievement. If serious effort was made by the liquor interests to save the drinkeries in the national capital by seeking to line up one political party in opposition to prohibition, it failed most dismally. The vote shows so complete an independence that it leaves no basis whatever for supposing that any political party is going to stand sponsor for the saloon.

The proposed amendment, supported by the liquor interests, to submit the question to a referendum vote of the citizens of Washington, all but crept through in advance of the final test on the bill itself, the referendum losing by a tie vote of 43 to 43. There were 26 democrats and 27 republicans voting for the referendum, while 22 democrats and 21 republicans lined up against it.

In the vote on the bill itself there was a realignment that encompassed its passage safely, but did not in the least disturb the independent character of the action. Twenty-eight democrats and 27 republicans supported the "dry" measure, while opposed to it were 22 democrats and 10 republicans. Senator Kern, democrat, and Senator Watson, republican, Indiana's divided representation in the upper house, each voted for the passage of the prohibition measure. The measure now goes to the house, where similarly favorable action is still needed to make it a law. Friends of the bill assert their confidence that it will safely pass the house, and that there, as in the senate, it will be acted upon as a moral and not a political measure. The augury is a hopeful one. When we can be assured that our legislative bodies will judge moral questions on a moral basis, business issues on a business basis, and leave political alignment for purely political questions, we will have taken a long step forward in governmental affairs.

Governor Goodrich has already come up against a fight in his effort to oust Mr. Lee from the public service commission, but things will not begin to live up in real fashion until he presses his recommendation for the abolition of some of the offices which he wants to do away with. The rest of the brethren can maintain some degree of complacency so long as it is merely Ed Lee and not the job that is hanging in the balance. Elimination of Mr. Lee would pave the way for some other patriot. Elimination of an office itself kills off everybody's chances and is an altogether different matter in the view of those who want it.

Fort Wayne banks and trust companies held their annual elections of directors and officers on Tuesday, a function that in recent years has increased largely in public interest because of the splendid growth and the added importance year by year of these great financial interests. Fort Wayne is tremendously proud of its banks and its trust companies. They are a tower of strength, and it is gratifying to see that each is steadily growing and constantly increasing its measure of fine service to the community.

A scientific civic analyst has been engaged to write a series of articles telling Indianapolis what's the matter with it, but capital city folk might as well prepare right now to expect a sharp disagreement with the diagnosis. Cities as a rule do not relish being told their shortcomings any more thoroughly than do individuals—and there is scarcely a finer field in which to waste effort than to attempt to tell some man where he's all wrong on things that have become matters of settled conviction with him.

With arguments under way in the supreme court, the fight over the Adamson eight-hour railroad law has reached a stage where the layman's pathway of understanding becomes beclouded and the task of keeping in intelligent touch with the progress of the fight approaches the hopeless. He can only wait and hope.

A British firm has underbid American shell-makers on sixteen-inch shells for the United States navy—possibly because American munitions makers, recently accustomed to shoving up the price on their stuff as a daily diversion, find the habit difficult to break, and didn't include it in their New Year resolutions.

Just about the time the public has succeeded in forgetting Harry Thaw, something else turns up to convince it that it wasted a mighty lot of sloppy sympathy on that young man in former years. The newest charge that he kidnapped and brutally horsewhipped a young schoolboy is one of the things that give emphasis to the conclusion.

Suffragists who propose to place "silent sentinels" about the White House in eloquent argument for their cause may be able to place the pickets on duty, all right—but can they remain silent and see such splendid opportunities to get in a word for the cause go utterly to waste?

But thirty bills were introduced in the Indiana legislature on the day which provided the first opportunity for that sort of thing—but don't worry, brother. The rest of them will be coming along soon.

Sketches from Life . . . By Temple

Mother's Bread

Something Else Will Be Exhausted

To excuse the swift rise in gasoline prices, one of the big guns in the oil business tells the public that the end of the country's supply of oil and gasoline is almost in sight. So what would you expect?

In 138 years, at the present rate, all the oil wells will be as dry as a patent office report. Therefore, dig up the extra price and be cheerful about it.

This, though sounding plausible, is bunk. As a matter of fact, nobody in America, outside of the oil companies, need give a hoot whether there is much gasoline in sight or little or none at all.

Because, for motor purposes, anyway, denatured alcohol is better and cheaper and there is no end to it—it would be none if the oil gods and others would kindly let us use it.

From the throw-away potatoes, cull apples, kitchen garbage or weeds on his place an average farmer, for instance, can get all the motor juice he needs to run automobile and tractor, and get it at a fraction of the price he pays to Mr. Rockefeller's pleasing concern.

Nothing stands in the way but the strange opposition of the government. It might help the farmer to this relief and instead it makes rules and regulations that keep him tied up to the oil monopoly.

At this moment, according to all accounts, Germany is running a large part of her autos and army trucks with alcohol cheaply made from refuse.

But Germany doesn't have any great, powerful and subtly managed oil monopoly snoopers around the halls of government.

The oil person before referred to has handed us a piece of news about gasoline. We will now hand him one about his own affairs.

There is something else in this country that will be exhausted before gasoline supply. It is the thing called public patience.

The Acid Test for the Movie Subject

(Indianapolis Star.)

Judge W. O. Thomas, of Kansas City, applied the acid test in an action brought before him to compel the authorities of that city to issue a permit for the displaying of an objectionable moving picture film.

"I am no purist," he said. "But if any person had attempted to tell in my home the story that picture illustrates I would have promptly shown him the door. If the board of censors and the appeal board had not refused a permit allowing that picture to be shown, they ought to have been dismissed themselves."

Too many stories have been displayed in films and on the stage that would not be tolerated in the home. The motion picture is one of the most important informative and cultural agencies of all time, and too great care cannot be taken to keep it an influence for good and above suspicion.

SHOULD CENTRALIZE OUR TAXING SYSTEM

Says Russell W. Wright in Third Article on Phases of Taxation.

(By Russell W. Wright, A. B., A. M.) In my former article attention was called to the fact there was a lack of uniformity in the assessment of the taxes in the state. This has always been the serious defect in our tax system. So much attention has been given to the administration of the tax laws that the plan has been called the "Indiana System."

This article will be a short sketch of the development of this phase of our tax law.

In the time, when Indiana was a territory, the assessors were appointed and worked under the direction of central authorities. When the change was made to a state the administration of the tax laws became completely decentralized. The assessors were elected with no supervision other than a local board to equalize between the townships.

In 1833 it was recommended by a committee from the house that there be some means of equalization between the counties of the state. They recommended a state board or district boards to equalize the assessments. No action was taken at this time. Two years later a state board was organized consisting of one member from each of the eleven judicial districts of the state. This board was dissolved at the next session of the legislature as the time was not ripe for this step in centralization.

The tax law of 1852, which put the provision in the new constitution into effect, called for three boards for the equalization of taxes. The first was a local board consisting of the auditor, the commissioners and the appraisers. The next higher was the district board, consisting of the auditors of the counties of the congressional districts, having power to equalize between the counties of the district. The third board was composed of one member of each of the district boards and the auditor of state with power of equalizing between the districts. In 1859 the latter board was given power over county equalization.

In 1872 the district boards were abolished. The state board was reorganized to consist of the governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary-of-state, auditor and treasurer. They were also given the power of assessment of stock of corporations. The latter was taken away in 1877 with the exception of the assessment of railroad stock.

The present tax law, which was written in 1891, provided for a board known as the state board of tax commissioners. This board consists of three members appointed by the governor with powers of equalization between the counties and the assessment of certain forms of property. The board has directive and supervisory powers over the local assessors. Within recent years conferences have been held between the assessors and the board meet and discuss the policy to be adopted. This has resulted in much good in getting a higher degree of uniformity.

While the writer is of the opinion that the general property tax cannot be made to work with satisfaction or justice, much can be done to remedy conditions. In case the constitution permits only the general property tax then we must accept what remedies we can in the administration of the laws.

Centralization of the taxing system is the key to the situation. Inequality and lack of uniformity have always followed local administration of the tax laws in this and other states. Centralization is necessary if the property is assessed uniformly over the state.

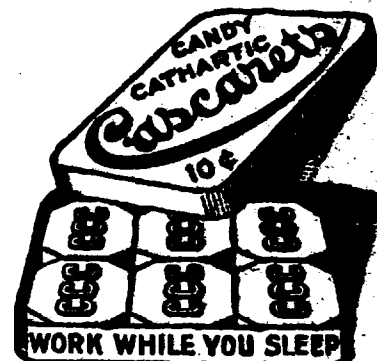

One reform would be to give the state board power to equalize property by classes. At it now is provided the board must raise all classes if any change is made. For example, suppose horses are assessed as 40 per cent of their value and notes at 100 per cent if the state board wishes to raise the valuation of horses to 50 per cent they must also raise the valuation of notes making them assessed at 110 per cent of their valuation. This reform would permit the raising of any kind of property to a more just valuation than can now be done.

Another reform would be to have all

BEST LIVER AND BOWEL LAXATIVE FOR FAMILY USE

"Cascarets" regulate women, men and children without injury.

Take when bilious, headachy, for colds, bad breath, sour stomach.

Instead of nasty, harsh pills, salts, castor oil or dangerous calomel, why don't you keep Cascarets handy in your home? Cascarets act on the liver and thirty feet of bowels so gently you don't realize you have taken a cathartic, but they act thoroughly and can be depended upon when a good liver and bowel cleansing is necessary—they move the bile and poison from the bowels without gripping and sweeten the stomach. You eat one or two at night like candy and you wake up feeling fine, the headache, biliousness, bad breath, coated tongue, sour stomach, constipation, or bad cold disappears. Mothers should give cross, sick, feverish or bilious children a whole Cascaret any time—they are harmless and safe for the little folks.—Advertisement.

assessors appointed through civil service and have those selected who are experts in the class in which they are to work. It could be also advisable to reduce the number of assessors and make the work continuous. An example of what can be done by expert assessors was recently shown in Wayne county, where in the assessment of real estate, experts in farm values assessed the farm real estate, a retired manufacturer assessed the corporations and so on down the line. The result was much more satisfactory than was anticipated.

What is the Cause of Rheumatism, Lumbago and Gout?

(By Valentine Mott Pierce, M. D.)

Ever since Scheele, in 1775, discovered that uric acid was present in the system, scientific men have been making experimental investigations and it is the almost universal opinion of our best medical men that the presence of uric acid in the system in excess is the cause of rheumatism and gout. When the urate salts are precipitated out of the blood into the solid tissue-structure the person suffers from gout or rheumatism in the muscles and joints, or suffers from lumbago and pain in the back muscles. The first aim of the sufferer should be to get rid of the uric acid, which, in excess, is a poison, and to do this it is well to drink a pint of hot water morning and night—get tablets of Anuric at the nearest drug store and take them before meals regularly. Anuric will do no harm to the system and will carry off the uric acid by stimulating the kidneys. Then tincture iodine may be painted over the swellings, or in more severe cases hot linseed poultices may be applied to soothe the local symptoms. But most important is it for the sufferer to abstain from red meat, to diet, drink only lemonade or hot water and take Anuric for a considerable time as it causes a drainage outward of the uric acid and is many times more potent than lithia and usually one finds that it dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar.—Advertisement.

Tribute to Mr. Bass.

John H. Bass, one of the pioneer bankers in Fort Wayne, resigned Tuesday as president of the First National bank, being succeeded by Charles H. Worden, and also as director of the Old National bank, this action being taken in compliance with section 8 of the Clayton anti-trust law, which went into effect last October and which forbids the interlocking system of directorates. Stockholders of the Old National passed the following resolution, which was signed by Henry C. Paul, president, and Stephen Morris, cashier:

"Resolved, That it is with profound regret that the stockholders of this bank are prevented from again electing Mr. John H. Bass, one of its directors, by reason of the law of congress, which prohibits any person from being a director or officer of more than one bank which has deposits, capital, surplus and undivided profits aggregating more than $500,000.

"Mr. Bass has been a director of this bank and its predecessor—the Fort Wayne National bank—continuously for a period of more than forty years. By his great interest in and constant labor for the welfare of the bank and his uniform courtesy and kindness, he has endeared himself to every officer, director and stockholder of the bank. By his powers of industry, his great executive ability, his integrity and great force of character, he has contributed as much as any other single individual to the material and financial growth, not only of this bank, but of the city of Fort Wayne also.

"The stockholders of this bank in regular annual meeting assembled, extend to him their sincere wishes for many more years of health, happiness and usefulness."

MACHINE GUN RUNS WILD; PEPPERS CITY

Device Escapes Control of Testers; Fires Fusillade at Hartford.

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 10.—Hundreds of persons had miraculous escapes from death and considerable property was damaged in Hartford's business section yesterday when a new machine gun, shooting 500 bullets a minute escaped control of the testers at the proving grounds of the Colt Patent Firearms company.

Factory managers were vague in explaining how the gun became unmanageable. The Colt factory is located a mile from the most distant point at which a bullet was reported. This was in the office of Dr. Frederick T. Simpson at 122 High street, where a .45 caliber bullet crashed through a window and pierced two walls in the house.

A shower of bullets struck and almost penetrated one of the steel tanks of the Hartford City Gas Light company, about half a mile from the gun, and scattered a number of workmen who were oiling the tank's ways and roller rollers. Another batch of the bullets struck St. Patrick's Catholic church.

WAGES IN THE MIDDLE WEST

Advance in Some Quarters, Stand Almost Still in Others.

GENERAL TREND AN UPWARD ONE
Reports to The Associated Press Give General View of Situation.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—A survey of wage conditions in various business centers of the middle west in the year just ended has brought out a somewhat diversified situation, the trend moving toward increased pay for labor of nearly all kinds in most quarters but standing almost still in a few others.

In Illinois there were substantial wage advances in many lines of industry, particularly iron manufacturing, lumber working, clothing making, printing, leather handling and manufacture of harvesting machinery. The iron workers got better than a 30 per cent raise during the year. First came a 10 per cent advance; then another 10 per cent rise and finally a third uplift of 10 per cent, each raise being calculated on the salary total made by the previous raises. The iron workers included molders, open hearth furnace operators and other employees in similar labor in Chicago, East St. Louis, Rockford, Peoria, Moline, Rock Island and Waukegan.

Lumber Mill Workers.
Lumber mill workers were paid, at the beginning of 1916, from $1.50 to $1.75 for common day labor, but before the year closed their wages were advanced to $2.00 and $2.50 per day. Those mill hands who were paid by the week, earning $15 each six days, were given a bonus of 5 per cent before the close of last year, and were afterward advanced to $16 per week and then to $17 and that bonus was continued in both cases. The lumber teamsters' wages averaged $16 per week when a five-year contract was adopted whereby their wages were increased to $17 per week for the first two and a half years and to $18 per week for the remainder of the five-year term.

Clothing manufacturers have allowed wage increases of from 10 to 15 per cent, affecting about 50,000 workers in Illinois, mostly in Chicago, and harvesting implement manufacturers have raised the wages of common labor 10 per cent and also have made advances in piecework but on a varied percentage according to the class of work.

Printing house employees have been given a 12 per cent increase in Chicago, other parts of Cook county and in Hammond, Ind., involving about 20,000 workers.

Leather manufacturers made advances in 1916 varying from 10 to 15 per cent and affecting approximately 20,000 workers in the great leather-making districts of Chicago, Milwaukee, Waukegan and Racine, Wis., the last named noted as a sole leather and harness leather manufacturing locality.

Higher in Cincinnati.
In Cincinnati wages are reported higher than they were a year ago but in Ohio generally there have been practically no increases except to the laborers employed in the establishments operated by machinery companies.

Two large paper companies in Indianapolis have announced raises in wages amounting in one case to a bonus of $13,000 and in another to a bonus of $4,000. In Indianapolis and the state generally, however, few announcements of wage increases have been made.

The situation in Michigan shows many favorable aspects. A report issued by the board of commerce of Detroit said that in Detroit and the manufacturing villages of Hamtramck, Highland Park and River Rouge, which are essentially part of Detroit's commercial life, the number of factory wage earners and salaried office employees was 191,000 in 1916, as against 187,000 in 1915. For the year just closed 223,000, an increase over the previous year of 29,206. A canvass made last October by board of commerce showed an average increase of 13 per cent in wages, but in some lines it is slightly more than that and in a few individual cases it is much higher.

Special Machine Workers.
Desire of manufacturers for the services of toolmakers, draftsman and special machine workers led to a demand for labor that broke all records in Michigan. The labor situation in the state was marked by little unrest, the exceptions being a strike of patternmakers for a nine-hour day with ten hours' pay and a strike of cigar makers which was of some violence. In the Bay City district wage increases have varied from a few cents for textile workers to as high as 50 and even 75 per cent for expert toolmakers.

There have been in this district wage increases of from 5 to 10 cents per hour in building trades and laborers are still reported scarce in those lines. Jackson, Mich., reports prosperity and best wages for common day labor paid for some time, the workers earning from $2.50 to $2.75 per day. Barbers got a 10 per cent increase and molders were given a raise of 50 cents per day of nine hours. School teachers and janitors have been granted increases ranging from 7 to 10 per cent.

Advances in Wisconsin.
Nearly all employees in every industry in Wisconsin have obtained wage advances (with exception of clerks and office employees), according to a report made by James A. Fetterly, secretary of the retail and credit division of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association who has just completed a general survey. Skilled labor has benefited to the extent of an advance in wages amounting to from 40 to 100 per cent. Various manufacturing concerns have enlarged their pay rolls from 25 to 70 per cent and have maintained their full quota of employees.

Minnesota reports general wage increases ranging from 5 to 20 per cent. A number of the greatest manufacturing and other business concerns of the state. Two small increases were

A railroad must be rebuilt every few years—

No railroad is ever finished except in a community that is dead. Every day there must go on a process of renewal and replacement. The are not a completed property, although they have spent $600,000,000 in 15 years for safety appliances, stations, terminals, electrification, steel cars, locomotives, etc.

To keep pace with the growth of commerce this constructive work must continue.

It can continue only as the public sees to it that the railroads are granted just compensation, that regulation and wage demands are fair, so that there may be a sufficient margin of receipts over expenditures to pay a reasonable return on the investment and make provision for future development.

granted the employers of the street car company and a big flour making company granted its seventeen hundred workers advances of from 10 to 15 per cent. A steel and machinery company, employing nearly three thousand men, granted them two general increases of 10 per cent each in the year just closed.

Skilled and common labor alike has been benefited by comparatively recent wage increases in Kentucky, according to figures gathered by private investigators. Data as to increases were available only in the cities of Louisville being the main source of information.

In the large institutions the reports showed they ranged from 23 per cent for 700 employees of a large wagon factory to 10 per cent for approximately 1,350 persons employed in cotton and flour mills and machine shops. In one instance an estimated average of 5 per cent increase was reported for 300 railroad clerks and in another a salary bonus of 10 per cent for 350 employees of a wholesale paint concern was cited.

A comparatively small number of concerns were able to state the amount the higher wages involved. Those so reporting, however, estimated the increased annual outlay in wages at $612,000.

Common Labor Increases.

Increases for common labor, the investigators learned, had increased five cents an hour to twenty cents, with employment more general than for several years.

According to Texas statistics compiled by C. W. Woodman, state labor commissioner, salaries of wage-earners in that state have not increased as much as the cost of food products. His figures show that during the last year the wage of unskilled labor has increased only 2 per cent, as compared with the previous year, and for skilled labor the increase has been between 6 and 8 per cent. Only about 10 per cent of the organized labor in Texas had any increases at all, and the increase of this 10 per cent has ranged from 10 to 40 per cent. While many of the industries in Texas have granted slight increases in wages, the bulk of them, according to Commissioner Woodman have made no advances. On the other hand, he figures that the increase in the cost of living has been between 40 and 50 per cent. In Texas, in fact this increase is working a hardship on wage earners in the lumber district of East Texas.

Fort Worth granted increases of 5 per cent, to all motormen and conductors on the street car line and the packing companies of that city made the same increase in wages equal to those given in Chicago and Kansas City plants to all workers.

Situation in Nebraska.
Wages paid by the 454 manufacturing and the 426 jobbing concerns in Omaha were advanced an average of from 10 to 12 1/2 per cent, during 1916, according to E. V. Parrish, manager of the publicity bureau of the Omaha commercial club.

Data collected by Mr. Parrish shows that the meat packing houses, the most extensive single industry represented here, have raised the wages of their 9,000 employees 17 per cent. As their pay rolls in 1915 aggregated $10,000,000 in round numbers, the increase is approximately $1,700,000 annually.

The creamery industry, employing about 1,500 persons and paying out in wages in 1915 nearly $1,350,000, granted advances of 12 1/2 per cent. The smelter employees who drew about $1,000,000 in wages in 1915, received 15 per cent. advances in 1916.

The St. Louis manufacturing territory reports wage increases of from 10 to 12 1/2 per cent, in various steel making and oil producing companies, and the granting by a large wholesale dry goods concern of a bonus of one month's salary for the year just ended. With the beginning of the present year the bonus was increased so as to reach ten per cent of the salaries, the bonus to be paid each month.

In Oklahoma few voluntary increases have been granted generally in the state, according to the Daily Oklahoman, and local chamber of commerce officials, but small increases have been granted in some cases as the result of strikes. Several Oklahoma City factories granted increases, among them one of the large packing houses and the street car company.

HASHED TURNIPS.

BY BIDDY BVE.

Turnips are generally spoiled by overcooking. The flat white turnip when sliced will cook in thirty minutes. Winter turnips require from forty-five to sixty minutes. Here is Uncle Sam's recipe for Hashed Turnips:

Chop boiled turnips. Return to the stewpan and for a pint and a half of turnips add a teaspoonful salt, one-fourth teaspoonful pepper, a tablespoonful butter and 4 tablespoonfuls water. Cook over a very hot fire until the turnips have absorbed all the seasonings. Serve at once.

Or the salt, pepper, butter and a tablespoonful of flour may be added to the hashed turnips; then the stewpan may be placed over the hot fire and shaken frequently to toss up the turnips. When the turnips have been cooking 5 minutes add half a pint of meat stock or milk and cook ten minutes.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Big Musical Show—"My Home Town Girl"—Friday Evening.

No other two co-stars were ever more popular than Hyams and McIntyre of "The Girl of My Dreams" fame, who subsequently became headliners in Orpheum vaudeville. The fact that they have left vaudeville and are appearing in another musical comedy vehicle that is the equal, if not better than their former success, will be welcome news to all theatre-goers.

They will be seen at the Majestic Friday evening only in Perry J. Kelly's latest musical offering, "My Home Town Girl," written by Frank Stamers with music by Louis A. Hirsch.

Well known people in the east are Eda von Luke, Maude Beatty, Doris Vernon, Dorothy Reich, Roy Purviance, Maurice Darcy and George Hall. A bevy of pretty girls who can sing and dance, together with elaborate scenery and the company's own symphony orchestra, contribute to the attractiveness of the piece.

That D. W. Griffith's "Intolerance" represents the supreme achievement of the master mind in the world of film productions is an opinion shared by the press and by the theatre-going public. The press has expressed itself in its columns on more than one occasion, while the theatre-goers have given expression to their approbation by crowding theatres at every performance of the great spectacle, that has thus far been given. It comes to the Majestic Monday for three days.

MAKES WAY EASY FOR MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Some Important Measures Introduced in Indiana House.

Indianapolis, Jan. 10.—A number of important measures were presented in the Indiana House of Representatives today, of which the most important was a bill, introduced by H. B. 34, authorizing cities and towns to buy any public utility without issuing municipal bonds therefor and permitting any bonds issued in payment for the property to be secured by mortgage on the utility purchased. Under this bill any obligation incurred by a city or town will not be considered a debt within the meaning of the constitution.

STRUCK AT OFFICER WHO INSPECTED BARN

Anna Miller Will Continue to Battle Prosecution, She Says.

Alfred C. Aubrey, city health officer, did not inspect the barn at the rear of the home of Anna Miller, 714 West Creighton avenue, Tuesday morning.

He did not carry his sanitary research into the clappboard building because Anna Miller said he could not. When he started past her through the door, she struck at him, he told in police court Wednesday morning. Aubrey covered his face with his arm and backed away from the barn, he admitted.

Police Bailiff George Eisenhut also experienced trouble in impressing the dignity of the law upon the woman when he called at her house, two hours later, to charge her with interfering with the health officer.

She did not answer the rap of Officer Eisenhut upon the back door until she was afraid that the door glass would tumble in.

When she did call out it was to tell Eisenhut that he could not come in, the officer testified.

Eisenhut threatened to kick in the door. The woman then opened the portal and heard the summons to appear in the city court.

She was present when court was called Wednesday morning. She heard her neighbors tell how she had objected to children even skating on the walk in front of her home.

John Wessel, Jr., acted as temporary chairman in calling the gathering to order. Ten prominent cities of Indiana were represented in the first assembly of the association. Mayor Hosey addressed the meeting on the general subject of relation of state utilities commission to municipalities. He lauded the merits of the commission, but denied its practicability as a power to govern actions of city plants.

Ordinance asking $1,000 for incidental expenses incurred in attending to preliminary matters relating to the proposed convention hall, was passed by the council. This sum includes the $470 traveling expenses of the council, board of works members and other officials who toured the middle west in the interest of the auditorium.

Raise of $600 in salary of the police chief, as recommended by the finance committee. It is proposed to pay the chief of police $2,400 instead of $1,800.

Resolution asking the state legislature to pass a bill, now pending, and designed to change the number of school trustees in Fort Wayne from three to five, to be elected by the people at large instead of by the city council, was referred to the education committee. Report will be made at the next council session.

Contract for construction of a roof for the reservoir, recently let by the works board, was referred to the committee on contracts. The same committee was ordered to report on the board of works contract to Charles Boerger, permitting him to construct a side track across McDonald street.

PRICE GOES UP.

City Will Pay $1,200 More for Cast Iron Water Pipes.

There is also a higher cost of cast iron water pipes. RENEWED ATTACKS BY RUSSIANS FAIL Czar's Armies Unable to Beat Back Germanic Advance.

Berlin, Jan. 10.—Renewed Russian attacks with stronger forces were made yesterday southwest of Riga, near the northern end of the Russo-Galician front. The war office announces that these efforts were without success.

Counter attacks made by the Russians yesterday along the northern Rumanian front were beaten back with heavy losses, it is announced officially. The Russians were driven back further along the Kasino valley. Teutonic troops advancing north of Fokshani, gained a footing on the left bank of the Putna river.

Of the total number of officers and men in the German army who were wounded during the second year of the war, 70 per cent, fully recovered and went back to the trenches, according to official figures published today by the German government. Only 6.4 per cent of the wounded were completely unfit for military service and the other men wounded were able to do military duty at home. Twelve hundred and fifty soldiers went blind during the war.

ON THE FRENCH FRONT.
Paris, Jan. 10.—There were no important developments on the French front last night, the war office announces.

ART SMITH NOT YET GRANTED A DIVORCE

Aviator's Action Still to Be Called in San Francisco.

If Art Smith, world-famed aviator, has been quietly granted a divorce he does not know it, he says. Further, more he has not received official notice from his attorneys that his wife, Mrs. Aimee Court-Smith, has decided not to contest the case.

Smith says he expects the divorce to be settled after he returns to San Francisco, which may be several weeks.

Developments in the project of organizing "The Art Smith Aviation company," for the manufacture of flying machines, will govern his action, he says. He thinks the company will be formed in New York in an effort to interest eastern capitalists in the plan at this time, Smith says. Probably the manufacturing plant will be located in Chicago or Detroit, Smith thinks.

Smith will go to San Francisco in a few weeks. He will make several test flights there. His manager is leaving for Japan about the third week in February. He will be in Japan two months, he says.

Then he may return and quit the flying game, he repeated. His future will depend on the success of the proposed aviation company.

ABOITE TOWNSHIP FARMER DROPS DEAD

While visiting at the Jennings farm, a half mile from his home, Wednesday morning, Alvin J. Stauffer, sr., aged sixty-five years, a well known farmer of Aboite township, dropped dead. He walked the distance between the two farms and shortly after arriving he toppled over. He was carried to his neighbor's home and a physician was summoned. He died, however, before medical aid arrived.

Coroner J. E. McArdle, of this city, was summoned and he pronounced death due to heart failure. Mr. Stauffer had suffered from attacks of heart trouble for many years. Wednesday morning, however, he was apparently in the best of health.

The deceased resided in Aboite township, on the Liberty Mills road, nine miles southwest of the city. He had resided there for many years.

He is survived by the widow and two children, Alvin, jr., and Mrs. Enoch Cleaves. There are also two grandchildren.

Funeral services Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the residence and at 10:30 at the Friendship church.

WOULD HAVE BEEN A STAR WITNESS

St Andrews, patrol driver, lost his opportunity of being the star witness in police court Wednesday morning. Andrews testified that he found two colored men fighting when he answered a call to Gurry's saloon, on Lafayette street, Tuesday night. Mather Comb, one of the negroes, had three bricks in his pocket, and Andrews Smith, the other, carried a pool ball, Andrews said.

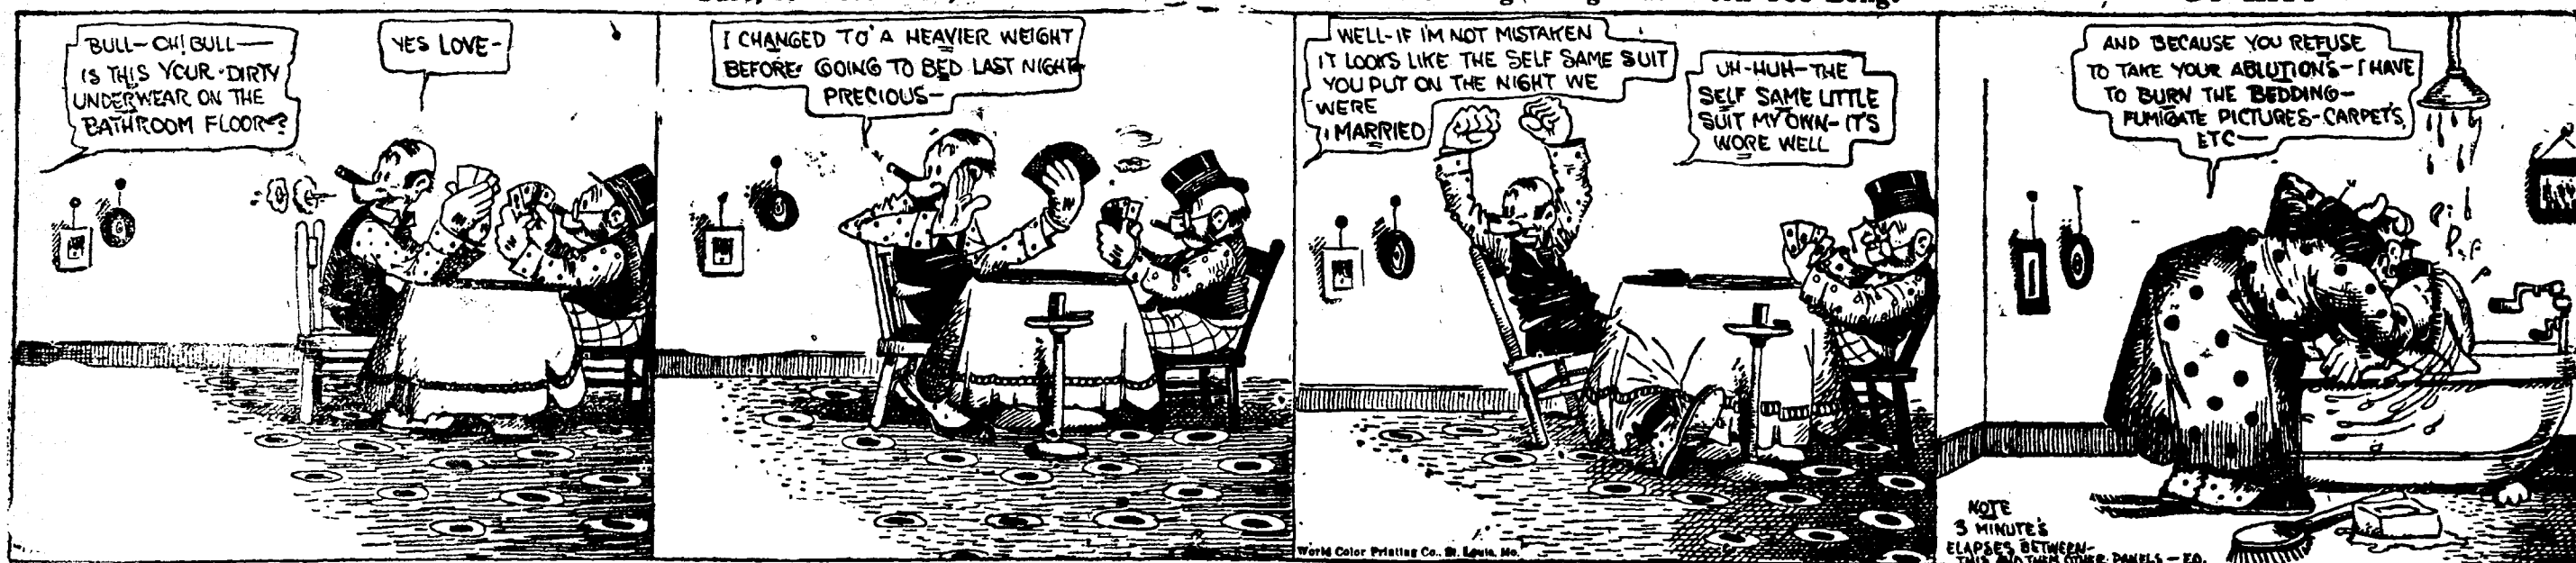

"Do you have the evidence?" Deputy Prosecutor Hoffman asked Andrews.

"I've got the pool ball," said St. Andrews. He retired to the storeroom and returned with a sealed envelope, which held the evidence. He tore one end from the folder and dumped its contents out on the table.

It was a large lemon which ambled across the polished surface of the prosecutor's desk. Andrews retired in disorder. He says some one of his brother police officers played a joke on him.

Professionalism Throws Scare Into Ranks of Tennis Bosses

Turners Take Easy Contest From Dudlo Shop League Five

TENNIS PLAYERS FEAR PROFESSIONALISM BUG

Will Hold Meeting and Make Definition of an Amateur.

New York, Jan. 10.—"Is lawn tennis to be placed once and for all upon an absolute amateur basis or left exposed to the dangers of commercialism?" According to President George T. Adee, in a letter addressed to all members of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, this is the issue which will be brought squarely before the delegates at the annual meeting of the organization to be held in this city February 9.

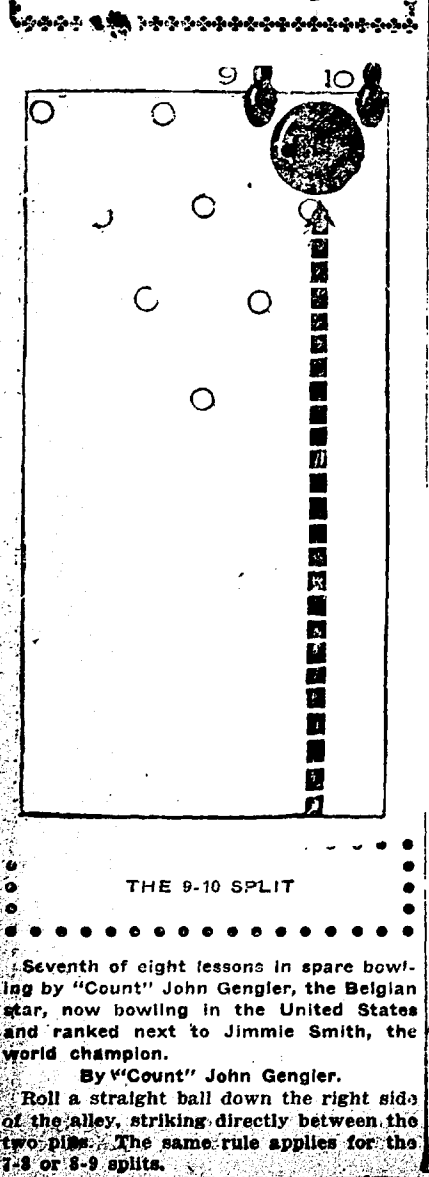

In explaining the need for decisive action on the definition of an amateur President Adee states that the executive committee feels strongly that the possibilities of professionalizing tennis is by no means remote unless a definite stand is taken now. Four of the principal governing bodies of sport in the United States have adopted the theory that the basic principle of all amateur sports is that no man should be allowed to commercialize his skill or prominence in any game and still remain an amateur. These four organizations are: The Amateur Athletic union, Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America, National Collegiate Athletic association and the United States Golf association.

"Can tennis afford to lag behind?" asks President Adee. Continuing, the tennis association executive asserts that every sport where professional tendencies have been unchecked shows marks of degeneration. He insists that influences hostile to the best interests of track and field athletics, baseball, golf and football cannot be helpful to tennis.

Referring to the sporting goods issue in tennis, the president insists that a prominent tennis player is hired to represent a firm, either behind the counter or on the courts, not for his selling ability but on account of his tennis reputation. In conclusion the president asks the members to determine the issue without substituting personalities for principles and places the responsibility for shaping the policies of the association on each member's vote.

Accompanying the letter is a list of the proposed amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, the matter being printed in such form as to give a comprehensive outline of the changes to be considered at the coming meeting.

Star Tells How To Make Spares

MIDNIGHT PARTIES TABOOED BY COACH

Members of High School Squad Must Keep the Training Rules.

Midnight parties have been stricken from the curriculum of those high school students who aspire to positions on the varsity basketball squad, according to Coach Wright. Training rules will be strictly observed from now on or the players will turn in their suits in disgrace and return to the ranks of the student body.

At the beginning of the season Coach Wright laid down a few simple training rules regarding smoking and late hours before the games, and told the candidates for positions on the team that it was up to them to make any more than were necessary for their personal benefit.

The coach has learned that the smoking rules has been considered somewhat of a joke and that several of the players were on a party the night before the game last week enjoying the cool evening air in the wee small hours. According to the coach, this is a trifle too late to turn in the night before playing a game. At least, there will be no more of it for the boys, and the fact was made known to them at practice last evening.

Friday night the girls' and boys' teams will play a double-header against the teams representing the Decatur high school. An attempt is being made here to get fifty students to accompany the team, in which case a special car will be chartered.

CRASH! BANG!! WOMAN EARNS HER LIVING BY TEACHING BOWLING!

MRS. GERTRUDE DORNGLASER, WHO MAKES HER LIVING BY TEACHING WOMEN HOW TO BOWL.

BY PAUL PURMAN.
A natural aptitude for bowling combined with perfection gained by years of practice has not only provided pleasure for Mrs. Gertrude Dornglaser of Chicago, Illinois state women's bowling champion, but has given her a means of livelihood.
Mrs. Dornglaser is the only woman professor of bowling in the world and has a large class of amateur pin shooters. "I have bowled since I was a kiddie," Mrs. Dornglaser said. "In fact, I was bowling long before most girls have forgotten about their dolls."
"I have found it an ideal game for women. It develops nimbleness of foot and keenness of eye, furnishes plenty of fun and good sport without too much exertion."
Sane dressing for the woman who would bowl is one of the first lessons Mrs. Dornglaser teaches her pupils.
"A woman can't bowl in tight stays and high heel shoes," she says. "The ideal dress for bowling is a short skirt, loose blouse, no corset and low-heeled elkskin shoes."
"A woman shouldn't allow bowling or other outside activities to interfere with her home life. I can make biscuits as well as I bowl and I am just as proud of it, perhaps a little more proud."

TURNERS TAKE GAME FROM DUDLO QUINTET

Shop Leaguers Fail in Start and Gym-men Cop Easy One.

The Turner five put over a good win on the Dudlo shop leaguers last night when the two teams met on the Turner floor. The count at the end stood 47 to 16, with the gym-men near the half-century mark. The winners were ahead at all times in the game and improved as their confidence grew greater. The end of the first division saw the score at 18 to 9, and the Turners did their big scoring after that.

Team play counted big for the winning team and they worked the floor to a great advantage, giving their opponents very little chance to get the ball under the basket, or within scoring distance. Herring did the big work for the losers, being the only member of the visiting team who could score more than once from the field. Every Turner got at least one field goal, while Weberuss, Miller and Lowe registered regularly.

The scoring:
Turners—Weberuss and H. Miller, forwards; Lowe, center; E. Ortleb and T. Ortleb, guards.
Dudlos—Wys, Foss and Hueber, forwards; Herring, center; Kohnman, Kiersple and Wickliff, guards.
Field goals—Weberuss, 3; H. Miller, 7; Lowe, 4; E. Ortleb, 1; T. Ortleb, 1; Wys, 1; Herring, 3.
Foul goals—Weberuss, 1; Miller, 2; Herring, 6.
Referee—Wilkins.

BOSSSES OF SAINT TEAMS PLAN GAME

Rival Outfits Meet at St. Paul Auditorium Sunday Afternoon.

All arrangements have been completed for the St. Paul-St. Mary's game which will be played at the St. Paul auditorium Sunday afternoon. The last of the preliminary business was settled up last night when Managers J. L. Mueller of St. Paul's and Clarence Alter of St. Mary's put their heads together. Among the questions settled at the conference was that of officials. Pete Dietrick was chosen to handle the game, which is expected to be fast and slightly rough. He is one of the most capable officials in town, however, and will get by beyond a doubt.

George Irmischer has rejoined the Lutherans after over a year's lay-off from regular playing. He has worked this winter, however, and feels that he will be in good condition for the game. Irmischer is a handy man to have on a team, being capable of playing either forward or guard with unusual success. The St. Mary's crew has no additions in its squad and will, start the same team which downed the Richmond Quakers.

The seat sale for Sunday afternoon's battle has been opened and the managers have put tickets on sale at both St. Paul's and St. Mary's, besides in the Koehlinger drug store and the Lauer cigar store. A large crowd is anticipated for the first game of the city series.

TAKES YEAR TO MAKE WINNING BALL CLUB

Mitchell Says It Can't Be Done in Less Time; Start Trip Feb. 20.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Developing a winning ball club requires at least a year or more in the opinion of Fred Mitchell, the new manager of the Chicago Nationals, who has begun to lay plans for the 1917 season.
Mitchell plans to close a couple of trades, if possible, and make several changes to strengthen the club. Deals are pending with St. Louis and Cincinnati, he said. He declines, however, to make any statement in regard to which position the Chicago club will finish in the coming pennant race.

"It would not be doing myself justice," he said. "I do not know exactly what the players are capable of and do not feel that I ought to make predictions for them. I desire to have a little time with them on the training trip before judging what sort of a team I will have."
"Ball teams are not made in a couple of months. Sometimes it requires a year or more to develop one. I think, however, that by the end of the coming season, and perhaps before, I will have a team that will be playing winning ball."

Mitchell said he was delighted with the material on the club, but that certain changes would be made.
"I cannot say anything about the pitching staff," Mitchell said. "But I am not going to discard any of them until I have a chance to look them over out on the coast."

The club will start on its spring training trip to Pasadena, Cal., on February 20. The players will make the trip in a special train. There probably will be 150 persons in the party. Six weeks will be spent on the coast.

Cleveland, Jan. 10.—Guy Morton, star of the Cleveland Americans' pitching staff, believes he has regained his old-time speed and control, and will be able to pitch winning ball next season. Morton's arm failed him last season and he was of practically no use to the club, toward the end of the season.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—"King" Brady, trainer of the Chicago Nationals last season, is to be retained to nurse the aches and bruises of the Cub players during the 1917 campaign.

Cleveland, Jan. 10.—Paul Des Jardien, the former University of Chicago football star, was anxious to get out of the city to make good on the Cleveland ball club in 1917. Les Pohl, manager of the Clevelanders, is a follower of the fall college sport and was deeply interested in the playing of Des Jardien.
"He is the best football player I ever saw," Pohl said. "He not only plays the ball, but gets down on the points about as fast as the ends and he is a deadly tackler. If I can develop him into half as good a pitcher as he is a football player, I'll have one of the best pitchers in the league."

I Blame the Woman Who Lets a Man Drink Says Druggist Brown

Of Cleveland. He Guarantees a Simple Home Treatment Given Without the Knowledge of the Drinker.

Cleveland, O.—No wife has a right to let her husband drink; for alcoholism is a disease and a drunkard is a sick man, says Druggist Brown of Cleveland. A woman can cure this disease—stop a drinking husband in a few weeks for half what he would spend on liquor in the same time. The habit can be broken and the disease cured. Thousands of cases prove it and every community has its reformed drunkard. Druggist Brown says the right time to stop the drink habit is at its beginning. Left to run its course it will deaden the fine sensibilities of the man you love. Begin with the first whiff of liquor on his breath but do not despair if he has already gone from bad to worse until he has become a rum-soaked sot. Druggist Brown knows the curse of strong drink for he himself has been a victim. A loving sister, without his knowledge or consent, rescued him from the brink of a drunkard's grave and for ten years kept her secret. She saved him from drink—rescued him from his own depraved, besotted self by giving him a secret remedy, the formula of an old German chemist. To pay his debt to her and to help other victims out of the mire and mire he has made the formula public. Druggists everywhere dispense it daily as Prepared Tescum Powders, put up in doses. Get it of your own druggist and drop a powder twice a day in tea, coffee, milk or other drink. Soon liquor does not taste the same, the craving for it disappears, and in one more drunkard has been saved and knows not when or why he lost his taste for drink.

Warning Note: Tescum should be given only where it is desirable to destroy all taste for alcohol and all pleasure in its use. Those who encourage moderate drinking should not give it until the so-called moderate drinker reaches the dangerous line, as most of them do in time. Druggist Brown has such confidence in Prepared Tescum Powders that he personally guarantees results or he will refund out of his own pocket the price charged by the dispensing druggist. It is dispensed in Ft. Wayne by Dreier Drug Co., Meyer Bros. and other druggists.

WESTERN UNION TO TRAIN OPERATORS

Extraordinary Growth in Use of Telegraph.

The Western Union Telegraph company has offered a bonus to about 1,000 manager-operators in small cities and towns for each junior operator such managers shall enlist and train. This unusual step arises out of the extraordinary growth in the use of the telegraph and the consequent need for competent operators to handle the company's business with the dispatch which its standards require.

Any person—man or woman—over the age of sixteen and with the requisite education and intelligence can become a junior operator. The company provides the necessary instruction free. When the junior grade is reached employment is assured.

In the larger cities, telegraph schools are already maintained for teaching operators. These, however, have not been able to turn out a sufficient number of trained men and women to wholly meet the present demands. It is now sought to give persons in smaller places as well as the cities an opportunity to study telegraphy either by exclusive application or in conjunction with their other employment.

It Is to Laugh Think It Over

Everything that is sold cannot be a "bargain," else the commercial world would soon be bankrupt. In order to continue in business merchants must at some time make a profit. A business that features so-called "bargain sales" must at some time mark goods at an excessive profit, thus making some of their customers help carry their losses. Exaggeration flows easily and smoothly from many retail sources, but claims are ineffectual unless backed by facts. We prefer to credit the people with intelligence and powers of discrimination. There are circumstances that warrant reduced prices, but regular goods must have their important place—on regular stock goods we always hold the prices to the lowest point consistent with our standard high quality.

THIS IS A SAFE STORE

You get what you think you are getting. A dollar's worth for a dollar.

We invite comparison of quality and price. Our regular prices will be found in many instances lower than so-called sale prices.

In the Ready-to-Wear

we are determined to make a clean sweep of all this season's garments and prices have been whittled down to the thinnest shaving. You can save from one-fourth to one-half on fashionable coats, suits, skirts, furs, waists, etc. January, February and blustering March are still ahead. You have plenty of time for the wearing of warm apparel but our selling time is short.

SILENT SENTINELS TO PICKET WHITE HOUSE

Suffragists Adopt a New Policy in Effort to Stir President.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Woman suffragists, after another futile appeal to President Wilson yesterday for his support to the Susan B. Anthony amendment, announced plans for retaliation by picketing the white house grounds with "silent sentinels."

Their purpose is to make it impossible for the president to enter or leave the white house without encountering a sentinel bearing some device pleading the suffrage cause.

The move was acknowledged to be a step in the new policy of mild militancy, which began with the coup in the house gallery on December 6, when a party of suffragists unfurled a "Votes for Women" banner while the president was making his opening address.

Raise $3,000 for Campaign. What the white house authorities will do about the pickets the suffragists intend to leave for development. After the women had their audience today they returned to headquarters of the congressional union, formed their new plans and held a meeting pledging $3,000 for the "silent sentinel" campaign.

Headed by Miss Maud Younger and Mrs. Sara Bard Field, 300 suffragists from the congressional union went to see the president, ostensibly to present memorials on the death of Mrs. Inez Milholland Bollesvain.

Because of the affair in the house gallery in December there was some difficulty in arranging the audience, but the president consented to receive the women.

Expresses His Surprise. When they made it the occasion to renew their pleas that he support the suffrage amendment the president expressed his surprise, reminded the spokesman of the party that he had not been apprised of their full purpose and was not prepared to say any more than he had on previous occasions. He repeated that he believed personally in their cause, but as the leader of his party could not commit it to action it had not indorsed.

The president added he could not understand the women's failure to realize that the democratic party had done more for suffrage than the republicans.

"I had not been apprised that you were coming here to make any representations or would issue an appeal to me," said the president. "I had been told that you were coming to present memorial resolutions with regard to the very remarkable woman whom your cause has lost. I therefore am not prepared to say anything further than I have said on previous occasions of this sort."

Commanded by Party. "I do not need to tell you where my own convictions and my own personal purpose lie, and I need not tell you by what circumscription I am bound as the leader of a party. As the leader of a party my commands come from the party and not from private personal convictions.

"My personal action as a citizen, of course, comes from no source but my own convictions, and therefore my position has been so frequently defined, and I hope so candidly defined, and it is so impossible for me until the orders of my party are changed to do anything other than I am doing as a party leader, that I think nothing more is necessary to be said."

"Because in this country, it is only through the instrumentality of parties that things can be accomplished by the individual voice, but by concerted action, and that action must come only so fast as you can concert it."

"I have done my best and shall continue to do my best to concert it in the interest of a cause in which I personally believe."

Bad Habits.

Those who breakfast at eight o'clock or later, lunch at twelve and have dinner at six are almost certain to be troubled with indigestion. They do not allow time for one meal to digest before taking another. Not less than five hours should elapse between meals. If you are troubled with indigestion correct your habits and take Chamberlain's Tablets, and you may reasonably hope for a quick recovery. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Obtainable everywhere. Advertisement.

WEDNESDAY IS DULL DAY IN LOCAL MART

Drop in Wheat is Expected by Millers in Few Days.

Wednesday was an eventless day to those who have nothing to do but watch the markets. There was only one thing to do that was expected to drop in wheat, which is expected to come at any time. A small sensation in wheat on the Chicago markets make it safe to predict a local drop before the end of the week. At least so one miller thinks, but he could make no statement as to how much the price would fall off.

Another commonplace day was passed on the city scales, the receipts being neither extremely heavy nor extremely light. Twenty-one loads of hay were weighed again Wednesday, as on Tuesday, but the price for which they were sold settled back to $10.00 to $12.00. Ten loads of corn brought the same price as the day before, 94 to 96 cents, and oats furnished the one variation, seven loads bringing from 53 to 56 cents, instead of 52 to 55 cents, which has been the price for several days.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Wheat prices rallied today from transient weakness due to inference that the German chancellor would soon make a new move to bring about peace. Selling pressure, however, was not heavy, and it took but little fresh buying to cause a recovery. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 3¢ lower, with May at $1.84@1.87 and July at $1.50@1.52, were followed by a substantial setback all around, but then a rise that in some cases showed a moderate net gain.

Corn paralleled the action of wheat. After opening 1/4¢ to 3/4¢ off the market here suggested a little further before turning up grade.

Trade in oats was entirely local.

Liberal receipts of hogs throughout the west weakened provisions.

Toledo Closing Prices.
Toledo, O., Jan. 10.—Close: Wheat—Cash, $1.90; May, $1.95; July, $1.54. Corn—Cash, $1.00; May, 99¢; July, 98¢.

Rye—Cash, $1.45.

Hathaway, Indiana's 1917 Football Captain, Has Appointment.

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 10.—Indiana university may lose Captain-elect Russell G. Hathaway of the 1917 football eleven at the close of the present year, as it is reported that he is considering accepting an appointment to West Point at that time. It has been known that he had received an appointment to the United States military academy, but it was thought that he would remain at Indiana until he had completed his four year course in June, 1918.

According to reports Hathaway fears he will lose the appointment if he waits another year and has concluded to accept at the close of the present school year in June. He has declined, however, to affirm or deny the reports.

Hathaway is from Linton, Ind., the home of Elmer G. Oliphant, the former Purdue university star, who won the highest possible athletic honors at West Point during the past season. It is thought Oliphant was instrumental in getting the appointment for Hathaway.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 10.—Frank G. Jones, the millionaire horseman of Memphis, is getting his stable of Grand Circuit performers ready for the 1917 campaign. Jones owns four of the fastest horses in the country—Anvil, 2:03 1/4; Doodle Archdale, 2:02 1/4; Etawah, 2:03 1/4, and St. Frisco, 2:03 1/4.

These fliers have won a large number of rich stakes for the Jones stable. Doodle Archdale, which campaigned several seasons, won $17,488. Etawah has pulled down $23,595.75. St. Frisco won $23,456 last season and Anvil landed $19,800.

Minneapolis, Jan. 10.—Twelve basketball games have been scheduled for the University of Minnesota team for the western conference season. The schedule follows:

- Jan. 13—Wisconsin at Minnesota.
- Jan. 22—Illinois at Minnesota.
- Jan. 27—Minnesota at Northwestern.
- Feb. 3—Ohio at Minnesota.
- Feb. 10—Minnesota at Illinois.
- Feb. 12—Minnesota at Ohio.
- Feb. 17—Minnesota at Chicago.
- Feb. 18—Minnesota at Iowa.
- Feb. 22—Chicago at Minnesota.
- March 2—Iowa at Minnesota.
- March 10—Minnesota at Wisconsin.
- March 12—Northwestern at Minnesota.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 10.—Vean Gregg, one of the pitchers on the world's championship Boston club, is anxious to be traded. Gregg asserts that he wants a regular turn on the mound and says that with pitchers Ruth, Foster, Mays and Shore on the Boston team there seems to be little room for him. When he joined Boston last season, after being traded by Cleveland, his arm was sore and most of his work was confined to batting practice. Vean says he is ready to work regularly with any club that will buy his release from Boston.

EDDIE PANK

May Go to Yankees, But Will Retire Before Playing With Browns.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 10.—Eddie Pank, the veteran southpaw with the St. Louis Browns last season, may wear a New York Yankee uniform in 1917. It is understood that the owners of the New York club are in a receptive mood as regards the acquisition of Pank, although they seem unwilling to trade any promising young material. Pank notified Manager Fielder Jones that he would retire from the game rather than plan another season in St. Louis. He played two years there. Pank asked to be traded or sold to some eastern club.

Pank's work last season ranked him among the best in the league. He finished twelfth among the twirlers in regard to earned runs off his delivery. In 37 games pitching 235 2-3 innings, 857 batters opposed him. He was hit safely 203 times, and charged with 61 earned runs. He finished the season with an average of 2.33 earned runs per game.

Pank is past 40 years old but still

FINE CHANCE TO FOOL KID BROAD

Kid Broad, that famous character, has been making his living lately by acting in the movies. Whenever a director looks about for some tough mug to portray a character, Broad comes close to filling the bill. Recently Broad has been supporting Francis X. Bushman in "The Great Secret." Knowing this, some of the Kid's friends stopped him along Broadway.

"We hear you're supporting Francis Bushman," they asked.

"Support that guy," responded the Kid. "He's got plenty of coin; he don't need anyone to keep him."

HAMILTON SCHOOL TO BE COMPLETED FEB. 1

February 1 is the date set by the contractors when the addition to the Hamilton school, on Pontiac street, is to be completed and ready for occupancy. This announcement was made to the school board at its meeting held recently. Work on the building has been delayed to a great extent due to the failure of the arrival of supplies used in the construction of the building. The building will be completed so that it can be occupied at the beginning of the second semester of work. The architect for the building and the contractors in charge of the work met with the school board at its meeting held Monday evening.

Smith, the newcomer, is a Purdue man of the class of 1908.

O. B. Rhinehart acted as toastmaster and the following responded to the toast wishing Mr. Lett all kinds of success: E. A. Allen, H. C. Ryan, and J. H. Allen.

HER JOB'S KILLING OFF WILD ANIMALS IN THE WEST.

Mrs. H. L. Tucker.

Pendleton, Ore., Jan. 8.—Kipling's theory that "the female of the species is more deadly than the male" finds literal support in a trapper's cabin situated in the mountains near Richland, Wash.

There lives H. L. Tucker, one of the men hired by the government to conduct a no-quarter warfare on predatory animals, with his wife. The hunted coyotes, wolves and bears of those mountains would, if they could talk, bear witness that Mrs. Tucker is more deadly than her husband.

While her husband bears the commission from the government to trap, shoot and poison coyotes and other harmful animals, it is Mrs. Tucker who enables him to turn in long reports to E. F. Averill, district inspector for the United States biological survey, whose headquarters are in Pendleton.

Dressed in men's attire and astride a buckskin pony, she makes daily rounds of the traps which she knows well how to set, bait and scent. She is perhaps the only woman in the west who is actively engaged in the risky occupation of exterminating wild beasts.

She is the daughter of a Montana stockman and is a natural horse-woman. Recently her husband bought a new saddle horse and the animal bucked him off the first time he mounted it. Mrs. Tucker thereupon mounted the beast and conquered it.

New Governor Seeks to Earn Popular Approval

Indianapolis, Jan. 8.—In his inaugural address delivered today, James P. Goodrich, who became the governor of Indiana for the next four years this morning, declared his own ambition as governor was to so conduct the affairs of the office that at the end of his term the people would say, "Well done." The address was one of the shortest ever delivered by a new governor of the state. It required but a few minutes to give. In his address Mr. Goodrich said:

"I am not insensible of the great honor conferred upon me by an election to the high office of governor of Indiana, nor am I ignorant of the responsibilities of this position, so I do not come to you today with an exaltation of spirit, but rather with a deep sense of the obligation to all of the people of the commonwealth, which this honor imposes upon me.

"I am fully aware of my own limitations. You do not require of me the impossible. You do expect of me, however, honest and earnest endeavor—moved by no consideration save that of the public welfare. You rightfully demand of me that whatever ability I possess, whatever of good lies in me, shall be devoted unselfishly to the general good and that obligation I shall discharge to the utmost.

"Responsibility to the people and faithfulness to public trust is the best answer which can be made to those who insist that democracy is a failure and is the surest safeguard of our free institutions.

"If in the administration of the state's affairs, we make efficiency, not partisan advantage, the standard; if in the enforcement of the laws we act impartially; if in the enactment of laws there is honest, wise and courageous action with respect to the matters dealt with, we shall disarm much reckless and unintelligent criticism and restore the confidence of the people in their government. I believe in the good sense and honesty of the people and am certain they desire an administration of public affairs conducted in the interest of the state as a whole and not for any special interest. This they ought to have; they should not be satisfied with anything less.

"Asking for the confidence and support of all the people and relying especially upon the assistance of their representatives in the general assembly, I enter upon the discharge of the duties of the office of governor of Indiana with but one purpose and one ambition and that is to so conduct the affairs of the office as to justify, at the hands of the people at the termination of four years, the words, 'Well done.'

CLAIMS DECIDING POWER.

Lieutenant Governor in Inaugural Matrimonial Position.

Indianapolis, Jan. 8.—Edgar D. Bush, of Salem, in his inaugural address as lieutenant governor of the state of Indiana, asserted that he, as the presiding officer of the senate, would have the deciding vote, under the constitution, in case the members should vote a tie. Mr. Bush, a republican, succeeds W. P. O'Neill, a democrat, of Mishawaka. He said in part:

"A well established precedent imposes upon the governor the privilege of stating the policies of the administration. You will have the pleasure soon of hearing these matters discussed by him. I think I may say, however, without overstepping the bounds of propriety that the republican party has entered into a solemn covenant with the people of Indiana, and that I will be found at all times laboring for the fulfillment of every pledge contained in our platform and at the same time upholding the arm of our chief executive.

"I have no desire at this time to enter into a lengthy discussion of the powers and duties of my office. There has been much said concerning the right of the lieutenant governor to vote on questions of a tie. I am of the opinion that I not only have the right to vote when the senate is equally divided, but furthermore that those who made our constitution intended that I should and the constitution mandates me to vote.

"I am profoundly grateful for this hour. I hesitate in my acceptance when I remember that such illustrious men as Morton, Gray, Turpie and Hugh Th. Miller have executed the trust, which I am about to accept. The high character of the public service rendered by these eminent sons of Indiana, I can hardly hope to equal. But their shining example lights the pathway of my determination and strengthens my desire to supply what I lack in ability with a singleness of purpose to serve all of the people of Indiana to the best of my ability.

"My heart beats quicker with the thought when I say I am proud of the grand old Hoosier state—of her matchless record and her glorious achievements. In the bright constellation of forty-eight states, none shines brighter than our own Indiana. None has played better its part in the chorus of the Union. None has done more to swell the sweet anthem, 'My Country 'Tis of Thee.'

"Gentlemen of the senate, I feel that I speak our common mind when I say that the hour is an opportune one. We stand upon the threshold of a new century of Indiana history. We look with pride upon a record of glorious achievements. We look forward with hope, both of the wonderful possibilities of the future. With bared heads, strong in the faith of the righteousness of our cause and in the respect and in the love of Almighty God, without whose assistance the destiny of no state is secure, yet we go forward. To the end that those who assume the duties 100 years hence may say of us, 'They builded and builded well.'

SPAIN INDIGNANT AT GERMAN U-BOAT ACTION

Madrid, Jan. 8.—Public indignation has been aroused through the publication of a message received by the manager of the Cartagena Navigation company confirming the report that the San Leandro was torpedoed by a German submarine. It was generally believed that the loss of the steamer was accidental as the cargo, being of fruit, was considered unlikely that she would be torpedoed. The crew of the ship has arrived at Hendaye, France, where they made statements before the Spanish consul in which they said that they were twenty-six hours in an open boat.

ENTENTE ANSWER TO WILSON SENSATIONAL

Answer of Allies to President Will Be Delivered Soon.

IT PROMISES TO BE MORE SPECIFIC

Entente Likely to Set Out Peace Terms in Definite Fashion.

Paris, Jan. 10.—Mariel Hutin, who is well known as a journalist, is authority for the report that the reply of the entente to President Wilson's note will be "ultra sensational" and that its delivery to the president is imminent.

He asserts that the note will be made public as soon as President Wilson has had opportunity to examine it.

WILL BE MORE SPECIFIC.

Entente Said to Have Been Explicit as to Terms.

London, Jan. 10.—The reply of the entente powers to President Wilson's note asking the belligerents to state the aims for which they are fighting, has now received the approval of all the entente governments and its delivery is about to be made at Paris. Publication of the text of the note, however, will be deferred until forty-eight hours after it has been received by the American government. The delays in sending the reply were due to changes suggested by one of the entente powers, but these proved to be largely changes in phraseology and not affecting the essential features of the reply as first drafted in Paris and London.

WILL MARRY HER YET, SAYS ARDENT YOUTH

Had Procured License at Hillsdale, Mich., When Restrained.

Wings of telegraph service were swifter than the speeding jitney auto which took Carl J. Attalla, 16, son of Elias Attalla, 535 Holman street, and Mabel Evans, 824 Huffman street, to Hillsdale, Mich., Tuesday morning, to get married. The couple procured a marriage license and were at the front door of the home of a justice of the peace ready to ask to be joined, when the sheriff halted them, in the name of the law.

The pair were taken to the county jail to wait in the lobby until father of the boy, accompanied by Detective Sergeant Spiller, arrived. The party, consisting of the father, son, the girl, who had almost become a bride, and the police officer, returned to Fort Wayne in the automobile. They jolted along over the rough, frozen roads most of the night. They arrived in Fort Wayne at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning.

KILLS HIMSELF, BUT OTHERS WILL SURVIVE

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 10.—After attempting to kill his former wife and her male companion by firing four shots at them when he met the couple on an uptown street last night at 11 o'clock, O. E. Smith, a well known young man here, ended his life in a cell at the county jail, where he had been confined. He hanged himself by his belt to a bar of the cell.

MOVE FOR NEW CONSTITUTION

First Proposal Comes Into Legislature as a Non-Partisan Bill.

CALLS CONVENTION IN JANUARY, 1918

Other Doings of the Indiana Legislature in Brief Session.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 10.—The first proposal for a new constitutional convention in Indiana came with the introduction of a bill for an act, jointly, by Senators Harry Negley, of Marion county, republican, and Abram Simmons, of Adams, Wells and Blackford, democrat, in the upper house of the general assembly today. It is therefore looked upon as a non-partisan measure. It was referred to the committee on constitutional revision, which meets this afternoon to take up its consideration.

In all fourteen bills were introduced in the senate and seventeen in the house before adjournment was taken to 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Bill is Non-Partisan.

The constitutional measure provides for the non-partisan election of 115 delegates, two from each of the senatorial districts of the state, and fifteen at large, on the third Tuesday of September, 1917. Nomination of candidates for delegates to the convention shall be made by petition only, signed by 200 voters, none of whom shall be permitted to sign more than one petition.

MERCURY DROPS TEN DEGREES IN AN HOUR

Cold Wave is on Its Way and 10 Degrees Above Zero is Predicted.

In an hour's time, between 7 and 8 o'clock, Wednesday morning, the mercury dropped ten degrees. At 7 o'clock the government thermometer registered 33 degrees, and an hour later it registered 23 degrees. A special warning as the result of a special observation by all weather men Wednesday morning, predicted a cold wave which means a temperature of ten degrees above zero by Thursday morning.

BRICK FALLS 49 FEET, STRIKING MAN ON HEAD

James Allard, Employee of Consumers Ice Company, May Die.

As the result of being struck on top of his head by a brick which fell a distance of 49 feet, James Allard, aged 35 years, an employee of the Consumers Ice company, is now lying at the Lutheran hospital at the point of death. The accident in which he suffered the fractured skull occurred Tuesday afternoon near the new building being erected by the ice company on Wells street.

Mr. Allard burials and rooms at 338 Madison street and resides in Paulding, O., coming to this city a year ago. Since that time he had been employed by the Consumers Ice company. During the summer he was a driver on one of the company's wagons. When the erection of the new building started, he assisted in the work.

KEY BELONGED TO CUSTODIAL ASYLUM

Employee is Missing After Its Discovery in Dead Girl's Room.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10.—Oscar Brown, a detective sent to Rome, N. Y., to trace the former possessor of a key found in the apartment of Mabel Colbert, reported to detective headquarters today that it was one used at the Rome custodial asylum and that one of the employees of the institution is missing. Efforts are being made to find this employee to learn if he had information of the key, which was one of a bunch of eight found in the apartment. A re-enactment of the murder, so far as the details of the crime are known, were planned by detectives to learn whether anyone outside the Colbert room could have heard quarreling.

DIES AT HOME OF SISTER IN DENVER

Picturesque Character in American History is Gone from Earth.

Denver, Col., Jan. 10.—Col. William Frederick Cody (Buffalo Bill), soldier, hunter and scout, died at 12:05 p. m. here today at the home of his sister.

Col. William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill", hunter, soldier, scout and showman, was for many years known to nearly every man, woman, boy and girl in America through his wild west show with which he toured this country and Europe. He was a picturesque type of the pioneer frontiersman and lived to see large cities built where he once hunted the buffalo and fought Indians.

Col. William F. Cody was born in Scott county, Iowa, February 26, 1846. His ancestral stock was Spanish, English and Irish. His parents moved west and took up a claim near Leavenworth, Kansas, then a frontier Indian post, when Cody was five years old. At ten years of age he found himself the head of the family owing to the death of his father who was killed in an encounter growing out of a dispute over the negro slave question. Young Cody's first employment was as a courier between the freight wagon trains operated between the Mis-

HOUSE NOW GETS BILL FOR "DRY" WASHINGTON

Advocates of the Measure Predict Its Passage There.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The fight for a "dry" national capital was transferred to the house today from the senate where the Sheppard prohibition bill for the District of Columbia, was passed last yesterday by a vote of 55 to 32. Advocates of the measure apparently are confident of favorable action in the house.

As it goes to the house, the bill would abolish saloons in the district and prevent the manufacture or sale of liquors within its limits, but not prohibit their import for personal use. The measure would take effect November 1, next.

Today's War News Given in Summary

Field Marshal von Mackensen rapidly is developing his attack north of Fokshani and already has succeeded in forcing a passage of the Putna, across which the Russians in southern Moldavia retreated after losing the Fokshani bridgehead position, protecting the Sereth line in this important central sector.

Von Mackensen's thrust here apparently has the railroad town of Pantzin for its objective, as Pantzin, which lies some thirteen miles north of Fokshani, is on the short railway line from Terutshu, linking the two north and south lines, running through Moldavia, behind the Russian front.

At last accounts the Teutonic forces were only some five miles from Pantzin, the capture of which would interfere seriously with the movement of Russian troops and supplies to the railway running northwest through Oena and virtually paralleling the Moldavian frontier line.

While the German headquarters' statement today only claims the gaining of a footing on the opposite bank of the Putna, immediately north of Fokshani, the Russians have been cleared entirely from the vicinity of that stream towards the southeast and have been forced to retreat back of the Sereth river itself, the last of their defensive positions along this line. Near the Danube Berlin indicates that subterranean attacks have been made by the Russians, but declares the Austro-German positions have been maintained against these thrusts. In the battle of the past two days the Teutonic armies have added some 1,450 prisoners to the 5,500 they took in the previous operations around Fokshani.

Considerable importance is attached by entente ally commentators to the offensive the Russians have opened in the Riga region at the northern end of the Russian front, which is believed to have the capture of the important German base of Mitau for its objective. Berlin, however, while conceding that the Russian attacks are developing notable strength, declares that the assaults along the line in this sector were without success.

BOLLING ON HAND; ENTERS A DENIAL

Wilson's Brother-in-Law is Positive He Saw It in Newspapers First.

Washington, Jan. 10.—After another brief session today, the house rules committee suspended public hearings on Representative Woods' resolution to investigate whether there was a stock market leak on President Wilson's part.

Whether to recommend specific investigation of Lawson's general charges of stock exchange operations by government officials or a broad inquiry into the stock exchange is the question now being considered.

Bolling Denies It.

R. W. Bolling, a brother-in-law of President Wilson and a member of P. A. Connelly & Co., brokers, Washington, was the first witness at today's hearing. He denied he had anything to do with a "leak."

"I have nothing to say," he said, "except that whoever is responsible for bringing my name into this, Representative Wood, I believe, might send me an apology at the same time that he sends one to Secretary Tamm."

GOODRICH NAMES HUNTINGTON MAN

Marion B. Stults Appointed to the State Board of Embalmers.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 10.—Gov. Goodrich today announced the appointment of Marion B. Stults, of Huntington, as a member of the state board of embalmers. He succeeds Clyde E. Titus, of Indianapolis. Both are republicans.

Dr. A. F. Nelson, state veterinarian, today tendered his resignation to Gov. Goodrich. The governor refused to accept it. Dr. Nelson a few days ago paid into the state treasury, under protest, about $11,000 of fees he had collected and about which there was a dispute as to who was entitled to them.

His entire estate has been estimated as worth $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. Among his property holdings was the St. Joseph Valley railroad, which runs from Elkhart to Angola, Ind. His other property interests were in Chicago and Missouri. It is said the foundation of his wealth was in the manufacture of proprietary medicines and the soda water concessions which he held at the Philadelphia centennial exposition.

SEEK THAW IN MANY CITIES

Police Hunt Man Accused of Assaulting and Kidnapping Young Gump.

MAN ARRESTED NOT THAW'S BODYGUARD

Philadelphia Police Did Not Succeed in Getting O'Byrnes.

New York, Jan. 10.—With the police of many cities searching for Harry K. Thaw, wanted here to answer to an indictment charging him with assaulting and kidnapping Frederick Gump, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., it developed today that the man whom the police of Philadelphia have arrested is not George F. O'Byrnes, Thaw's bodyguard, alleged to have been involved in the enticement of Gump to New York last Christmas.

Frank P. Walsh, counsel for the Gump family, consulted the attorney upon his return today from Philadelphia. He informed the prosecutor that the man in custody in that city is Oliver Brower, of Utica, N. Y.

Brower aided Thaw in Utica last October when Thaw conducted a political campaign there against a supreme court justice who had denied the man who killed Stanford White, a writ of habeas corpus during Thaw's legal fight to obtain his release from the Mattewan state hospital for the insane.

Search in Four Cities.

Police of New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Washington were today searching for Thaw.

Thaw was known to be in Philadelphia Monday, but it was said there he never left Monday night for Washington and that he had intended to leave Washington last night for his home in Pittsburgh.

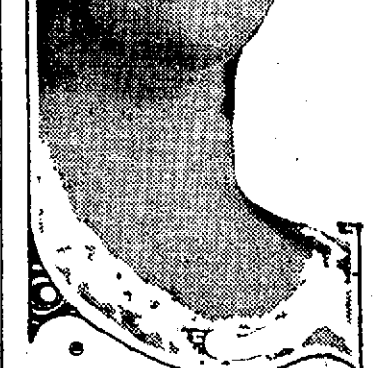

It is charged that Thaw enticed young Gump, who is 19 years old, to a hotel here on Christmas night and beat him with a whip until the youth was covered with bloody welts.

Frank P. Walsh, formerly chairman of the federal commission on industrial relations, who is here as attorney for the boy's father, said that Thaw's acquaintance with young Gump goes back to December, 1915. Thaw, he said, had written a number of letters, sent money and offered to pay his tuition at the Carnegie institute in Pittsburgh.

Evidence laid before the grand jury here recalled testimony presented at the hearing on Thaw's sanity at White Plains in July in 1909. A New York lodging house keeper said that Thaw before he killed Stanford White lashed girls with a dog whip in a room which he hired at her house.

A man said to be George F. O'Byrnes and described as Thaw's bodyguard, is under arrest in Philadelphia. The man denies he is O'Byrnes.

VERDICT IN "AIR

Death of 17-Year-Old

Olney, Ill., Jan. 10.—The jury in the trial of Roy Hinterliter, a young farmer, for the murder of Elizabeth Ratcliffe, his seventeen-year-old sweetheart, returned a verdict of manslaughter early today, after having reported to the court three times for instructions during the early morning hours. The punishment may be from one year to life imprisonment in the penitentiary. Hinterliter confessed on the witness stand that the girl's death occurred last July during an attempt at an illegal operation while driving in a buggy with him, but asserted she had used the surgical instruments supplied by him, while he was not with her. He claimed the girl employed the instruments while he went to untangle his horse tied about thirty feet away. He said when he returned to the girl she was unconscious. He believed she had fainted, but he was unable to revive her. He placed her in the buggy and drove to a hospital at Olney, where a physician found that the girl was dead.

The state contended that the death of the girl was caused by air bubbles forced into her veins for the purpose of relieving her condition.

FRANZ BOPP'S CASE NEAR JURY'S HANDS

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 10.—The case of Franz Bop, German consul general in this city, and four of his attaches or employees, charged with conspiring to destroy munitions consigned to the entente allies, obstruct shipments and otherwise violate United States neutrality, will be in the hands of the jury in the United States district court today.

Argument was completed by opposing counsel yesterday and Judge William H. Hunt was ready when court opened today to instruct the jury. The prosecution has asked for no particular instructions. The defense, however, presented a voluminous request, urging instruction for acquittal on technical grounds.

VICE NET ENMESHES WEALTHY HOTEL MAN

Hoynes Promises to Make De-
Public Today.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 10.—Investigation of the alleged police graft "ring" led to the taking into custody early today of Thomas Newbold, wealthy hotel and cafe owner. Maclay Hoynes, states attorney, who is conducting the investigation, refused to make public the reason for Newbold's detention but pointed out that several of the hotels controlled by Newbold have been the scene of police raids. Newbold was taken into custody shortly after Mr. Hoynes announced that Thomas Costello and Lieut. Augustus M. White, both under arrest, had confessed, directly connecting Charles C. Hooley, chief of police, with the system which he charged levied tribute amounting to thousands of dollars annually, on the underworld. Chief Hooley, who was arrested Monday night, charged with extortion, bribery and conspiracy, is free on bonds of $25,000.

Mr. Hoynes promised he would make public the details of the two confessions today. He asserted that Lieut. White, who recently has commanded the Lake street police precinct, implicated Costello, alleged to be the connecting link between the police and hundreds of vicious resorts in the city and that Costello, in turn, involved Chief Hooley in his confession. While the state's attorney withheld the details of the two confessions he charged that he had learned that, for at least six months, Costello had visited Chief Hooley's home on an average of three times weekly, and that on one occasion he was accompanied by Michael Heitler, a police character known as "Mike De Plke," now under arrest in connection with the investigation. He charged also that Costello held daily telephone conversations with the police head and that Chief Hooley had visited the alleged graft "payoff" office said to have been maintained by Costello.

Dozens of persons, ranging from notorious police characters to respectable business men, were questioned by Mr. Hoynes and his assistants today and there were unconfirmed rumors that several important witnesses are being detained in a down town hotel, guarded by operatives of a private detective agency.

Mr. Hoynes announced that he had learned from persons he had questioned that the manipulations of the alleged corruption "ring" were wider than was at first indicated. In addition to numbers of policemen, ranging in rank from patrolmen to captains, he charged, several persons outside police circles are involved.

"I haven't even scratched the surface of the graft ring," Mr. Hoynes said today. "The inquiry is still in its infancy. It will take several weeks to get to the bottom of the ring's operations."

Tomorrow will be Hooley's last day as chief of police, Mayor William H. Thompson having announced he would send his successor's name to the council tomorrow night. He refused to divulge his name, but asserted his belief that the aldermen would be pleased with his selection. Chief Hooley resigned, effective Jan. 1, last, but consented to remain in office until Jan. 11 that he might be in charge over New Year's eve.

SAYS GERMANY WILL GET FLEMISH COAST

Final Outcome of War
Struggle.

London, Jan. 10.—Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German national liberal deputy, in a speech at Hanover on Sunday declared that Germany must emerge from the war in possession of the Flemish coast, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Times. Dr. Stresemann said that Germany, although second strongest economic power in the world and possessing the second strongest merchant fleet, has not a single naval supporting point to serve for defense in war time.

"This war has annihilated our world trade," he is quoted as saying. "We have forfeited our colonies and our cruiser squadron is lost. If, therefore, the war ended without something of our former situation altered the consequence for us would be the collapse of our national economy because the German merchant would not again risk seeing all that he had created collapse the day after declaration of war by England. If peace is concluded without Germany possessing the Flemish coast, England is the winner and we the loser. A neutral Belgium is an historical impossibility after this war."

Dr. Stresemann added that without the future possibility of marching through Belgium the Germans must fight the next war on the Rhine and not in France. He said they looked for a German peace, not one under the protection of a world peace alliance. Such an alliance, he maintained, meant a new Algeiras congress at which Germany would have against her not only her present enemies but a world of neutrals.

LEAPS IN ICY RIVER IN SUICIDE ATTEMPT

Mrs. Carl Clausner Saved by Heroic Plunge of Fred
Black.

Mrs. Carl Clausner, aged 59, 304 Mechanic street, cannot commit suicide. Fred Black, 24, 1210 Huron street, leaped into the icy depths of the St. Mary's river and drew her to safety, after she had dropped beneath the murky surface twice Wednesday, at 9 o'clock. He thwarted her fifth attempt to take her life.

Mrs. Clausner has been ill for two weeks, neighbors say. She was able to be about on Wednesday and talked with neighbor women five minutes before she tried to drown herself. She had complained to city officers about being brutally treated a few days before. Members of her family have kept her under almost constant surveillance since she tried to hang herself from the railing of the Mechanic street bridge three months ago. She was restrained by her daughter at that time just before Mrs. Clausner prepared to leap from the foot bridge, after fastening a clothes line rope about the bridge railing. On other occasions she tried to drown herself in the cistern and tried to take poison, it is declared.

Mrs. Anna Meyers, who lives next door, saw the little, black-haired woman run from the back door of the Clausner home toward the St. Mary's river Wednesday morning. Mrs. Meyers guessed the motive of her neighbor. So Mrs. Meyers ran screaming at the top of her voice to the home of Mrs. Jane Black, two doors away. "Mrs. Clausner is going for the river," Mrs. Meyers called.

Fred Black, who had finished his work as construction laborer at the Electric Light plant, sat by the stove in his mother's home. He did not work Wednesday. At first call of Mrs. Meyers he leaped for the doorway. He raced like mad towards the bank of the river, fifty yards away. Mrs. Lillie Cox had preceded him and was standing in the icy water up to her knees, reaching for the drowning woman, who was sinking for the second time, just beyond her reach.

Black stopped long enough to pull off his shoes. He realized that a plunge in the water, which is ten feet deep at that point, would mean death if he carried the burden of his shoes, he said. An eddy, which carried several small cakes of ice on its swirling surface, swept the body of Mrs. Clausner farther from the shore. Black raced down the steep bank. He plunged headlong into the river. He caught hold of Mrs. Clausner's hair, just as she started to sink for the third time.

The struggle to reach the shore was a frantic one. Several times Black's face was immersed in the muddy water. After what seemed ages to his mother, who wrung her hands on the shore, he was able to touch bottom and dragged the limp form of the woman to the bank.

Mrs. Black aided her son in carrying the woman, who was thought to be dying, into the Black home. Police were called. With the life boat swinging at the rear of the big patrol the officers drove at high speed to the scene of the suicide attempt. Mrs. Clausner was rushed to the St. Joseph hospital. She will recover unless pneumonia is contracted from the extreme exposure, physicians say.

Reporters found Black quietly pulling off his wet socks, behind the stove, in his home, five minutes later. He did not know that already there is talk in the excited neighborhood of appealing to Carnegie, to give him "one of them hero medals."

TRYING OUT COIN- WASHING MACHINE

Mint Official Seeking to
Cleanly.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Director of the Mint von Engelkin is experimenting with a coin washing machine, designed to clean silver coins much after the manner that paper money is laundered at present. The machine is largely Mr. von Engelkin's invention and is designed also to dry and count the coins. Two of them it is believed would be sufficient to care for all the dirty coins in the country, restoring them to their former cleanliness and lustre. Pennies will not be washed by the new machine, but may be colorized by an electrical process which slightly changes their color, making them practically impervious to dirt and hardens them. Thousands of blanks have been struck by the Philadelphia mint and experiments will soon be conducted on a large scale.

The new dimes, because of their slightly concave design, are said to be a dirt catcher without equal in American coins and many badly soiled specimens have already been returned to the mints although they have been in circulation but a short time.

SPEAK TO CIVIC CLUB.

Told of City Planning.

Frank H. Hilgeman, secretary of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange, and Charles Nolan, also of the exchange, spoke at a meeting of 100 city workers at Zion's Lutheran hall on Weisser Park avenue Tuesday night. Their subject was city planning. Emmet Martin presided at the meeting. The Reservoir park as a site for the convention hall was endorsed. Among the subjects taken up at the meeting was house moving. Members of the Civic club protested against the moving of several houses, considered undesirable, to Weisser Park avenue.

After attending the Civic club meeting both Mr. Hilgeman and Mr. Nolan attended a meeting of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange. Nolan made a report as chairman of the committee on commissions. A communication was read from Will H. Scheiman urging that all standing committees hold a meeting at least once a month.

WIN VICTORY OVER EPIDEMIC DISEASE

German Army Surgeons Are Making Noteworthy
Showing.

Berlin, Jan. 10.—A noteworthy victory over epidemic diseases in the German armies has been scored during the second year of the war. According to official reports just published the number of cases has dropped from 51 per 1,000 during the first year of the war to a trifle over 38 per 1,000.

The greatest number of patients, 21½ per 1,000, were treated for nervous disease, due to the strain of battle and particularly of trench warfare under terrific artillery bombardments like those of Champagne, Verdun and the Somme. Pleurisy was responsible for six cases per 1,000; pneumonia, four; tuberculosis, one seventeenth; interis, one fourteenth, and dysentery, one eighteenth. A feature of the report is the absolute disappearance of smallpox and the practical elimination of other scourges like typhus, typhoid and cholera. This is noted in spite of the fact that the armies operated largely among populations suffering extensively from these maladies and under conditions favorable to their spread. The immunity of the soldiers is attributed to vaccination.

The war ministry has made public an appeal on behalf of war invalids, asking especially that they be given work whenever possible and never "false sympathy, which is likely to be exemplified more and more by the purchase of postal cards and knick-knacks from invalids who have taken to hawking and who are deliberately playing upon sentimental sympathies." The appeal says:

"The state of the financial means are already limited and even with the most favorable peace there will be no prospect for a long time of sufficient wealth to enable the state, wholly or even in large part, to support its invalids. Therefore, charity will not suffice. Work alone uplifts and ennobles even the poorest work creates and sustains health."

ANTI-FEVER SERUM IS PUT UNDER SUSPICION

Stuff Administered to Troops.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 10.—The anti-typhoid fever serum administered to troops was the subject of investigation today by a board of physicians appointed yesterday in United States district court at Kansas City, Kas., by Judge John C. Pollock. Harry De Bord, a letter carrier, had appeared before the judge to plead guilty to a charge of theft from letters, when he collapsed. De Bord's attorneys attributed his condition to serum injections while he was on the border recently with the Kansas troops. Judge Pollock refused to go on with the trial and ordered the investigation. "If the government's serum treatment resulted in illness it also may have injured his mind," Judge Pollock said. Since three injections of serum were given De Bord while on duty, they asserted, he had been in ill-health.

The doctors appointed on the investigation board were directed to report to Judge Pollock as soon as their work is finished. De Bord, who is 21 years of age, was a private in the First Kansas infantry.

REPEAL OF MINNESOTA BOXING BILL IS ASKED

George Moeller, Who Introduced It, is Greatly
Disgusted

Minneapolis, Jan. 10.—Representative George Moeller of St. Paul, who two years ago introduced the bill providing for the legalizing of boxing in Minnesota, announced yesterday that he would introduce another bill within a few days calling for the repeal of the act.

Moeller, who is known as the "father of boxing," declared that he was disgusted with the way the game has been conducted in this state and that, rather than see it continue along the same lines, would prefer to have it killed entirely. Many of the other former supporters of the bill are declared to be of the same mind.

Senator J. W. Andrews, of Mankato, one of the bill's strongest supporters in the upper house two years ago, has declared himself ready to work for the repeal before that body. "Everything has been wrong," declared Mr. Moeller. "The first misdeed was to limit boxing to only three cities in the state—Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth. Then the commission appointed by the late Governor Hammond arbitrarily limited the number of clubs in each city to one, practically giving the owners of those clubs a monopoly on boxing. Both the commission and the owners of the clubs in the three cities since then have done much to kill the game. I am for boxing when it is conducted right, but not as it is now."

He was taken sick soon after he left Bellevue and at Payne, O., the train was held twenty minutes until a physician could be secured. Mr. Koontz was taken off the train here and removed to St. Joseph hospital, where Dr. J. Frank Dinneen is attending him. Mr. Koontz resides in Bellevue.

Attacks High Living Cost. Senator Negley also offered a measure designed to attack the high cost of living. It would prohibit a license fee on all producers of food and clothing or their direct agents, thus tending to encourage direct marketing. The measure went to the cities and towns committee.

School Board Finances. Senator Kinder, of Lake county, presented a measure that would enable school boards to finance themselves temporarily, the same as municipal corporations, which would effect a saving in interest charges, he asserted, of 2 per cent. He also offered an amendment to the compensation act which would cause payment to a victim of an industrial accident to start in seven days instead of fourteen. Senator Hagerty, of South Bend, proposed a modification of the public improvement law, which would strike out the requirement calling for concrete foundations for permanently improved streets, permit the improving wherein three-fourths of the affected property owners are willing to be assessed 10 per cent of the value of the property affected or twice the cost now permissible, permitting the grading of streets without their permanent improvement and recognizing non-resident property owners as freeholders. Senator W. E. English offered an act prohibiting killing of game with an automatic gun.

School Board Finances. Senator Michael Thornton presented a measure which would prohibit all chairmen of political parties, state, district, county or city, from practicing law before appointive boards and commissions of the state.

AWAIT PLUNDER COMMITTEE.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 10.—Pending the introduction of the prohibition, suffrage and other measures of special interest there was little in prospect in either house of the general assembly today to arouse popular concern. The assignment of committee rooms today and the getting together of the standing committees was expected to follow another brief session. The second roll call was expected to bring out another batch of local measures and it was believed before the end of the day there might be reports on two or three of the measures presented on the first roll call.

The senate gallery was present in force this morning, awaiting the report of the republican plunder committee, which has had its troubles for several days past. According to Senator White, of Montgomery county, it was necessary to "iron out" a number of obstinate wrinkles before this report was ready for submission. The demands of Marion county politicians, it is believed, were turned down rather pointedly, the Indianapolis city organization, it is said, having "requested" places for twenty-five. It was in order that the expense budget might be kept within the proper proportion of $100,000, the maximum estimate of the cost of the session, that many party workers were forced to suffer disappointment in their ambition to get sixty day jobs on the state's payroll.

"When did you receive your first information regarding the president's note?" Representative Henry asked. "When I read it in the newspapers." "Did you ever receive from any source," Representative Garrett asked, "any intimation of the president's so-called peace note in advance of its publication?"

"Absolutely not." "Any other member to your firm receive such information?" "Absolutely no member had any advance information," Bolling said he had no knowledge of any official of the government or administration who had profited by stock transactions as a result of the peace note and was accused after a brief examination. Central News Net Guilty.

W. A. Crawford head of the local bureau of Central News of America, which supplies news to Financial America, a Wall street paper, read a confidential message he says he sent to his New York office December 20, saying that a note was coming but that, according to Secretary Lansing, it was not a peace note nor a move for mediation.

"There was absolutely no leak in our service nor from any of its clients," said he.

Representative Harrison said he had examined the Central News tapes for Dec. 20 and found nothing indicating that the confidence of Secretary Lansing had been violated. He read from the ticker report of that day several references to Lloyd-George's speech in parliament and its effect on the market. "I have found absolutely nothing in the ticker," said Representative Harrison, "to intimate anything about Secretary Lansing's conference with newspaper men on that date. According to this ticker report it was the Lloyd-George speech which affected the market that day."

Crawford read a statement declaring that Central News was not the only news service with financial papers among its clients and he thought it fair since it had been "singled out" in the inquiry that he be known. The International News Service, he said he was "reliably informed," served the Dow Jones company and that the Associated Press served the New York Journal of Commerce.

"You don't think any of them violated Secretary Lansing's confidence do you?" asked Representative Bennett, of New York. "Oh no," replied Crawford. "Neither the United Press nor the Associated Press is connected with any ticker service, is it?" Representative Harrison continued. "No," Crawford replied. Representative Henry brought out that Central News had the privilege of a representative on the floor of the house of representatives.

souri river and the Rock mountains. In turn he became wagon master, trapper, hunter, pony express rider and stage coach driver, all giving a varied experience in a school, the graduation from which left the scholar an adept in every possible line of frontier activity.

In Union Army. In exciting experience in the Union army as a soldier and subsequently as a confidant and scout of his commanders in the desultory and guerrilla warfare of the southwest, left him at its finish well known as an all around frontier man, competent to advise, to guide and to lead. These qualities soon brought him to the attention of such distinguished commanders as Gen. W. T. Sherman, Lieut. Gen. Phil Sheridan and Generals Crook, Custer, Merritt, Carr, Royal, Miles, Dodge and others and secured his appointment as chief of scouts in the United States army during its numerous Indian campaigns in the west.

His career in this line identified him with the great fighting epoch between the red man and the white waged by General Sheridan after the Ohio-Dance war in the decisive battle of Wounded Knee in the 1890-91 campaign with the Northern Sioux.

Wins His Sobriquet.

During the construction of the Union Pacific railroad young Cody attached himself to a camp of United States troops protecting the laborers and won his sobriquet of "Buffalo Bill" by taking a contract to supply the entire force with fresh Buffalo meat for a certain period, killing under one contract 4,280 buffaloes. On one occasion he killed the noted Cheyenne chief, Yellow Hand, in the presence of Indians and troops.

He became known to juvenile America in the stories of western adventure written by E. A. C. Judson, who wrote under the nom de plume of Ned Buntlin.

With the advance of civilization, finding his occupation on the western plains gone, he went on the stage where he remained several years playing leading parts in dramas depicting life on the frontier. Later, in association of Nate Salsbury, he organized his wild west show with which he toured this country for many years, and one occasion visited the principal cities of Europe, where he was warmly received and entertained by royalty.

He was elected to the Nebraska legislature in 1872.

Colonel Cody, in 1866, was married to Miss Louisa Frederic.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments.

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over your scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.—Advertisement.

INDIGESTION CAUSES DEATH.

Hartford City, Ind., Jan. 10.—William Bergdoll, aged about 62 years, one of the most prominent farmers living south of Trenton, died at his home, one-half mile south of that village, shortly before noon, Tuesday, as the result of what is believed to have been an attack of acute indigestion suffered Monday morning.

DESERVES GOLD MEDAL FOR THIS

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn so it lifts out.

You corn-plastered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezeone applied directly on a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once and soon the corn loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A quarter of an ounce of freezeone costs very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin.—Advertisement.

ROBBERS GET $50 WORTH OF FLOUR

Haul Is Made at the Plant of the Kendallville Milling Company.

Kendallville, Ind., Jan. 10.—Several weeks ago coal piles in Kendallville were reduced by petty thieves; Monday evening the flour pile at the Kendallville Milling company on Sergeant street suffered, when thieves broke into the mill and stole flour valued at between $40 and $50.

According to reports received from Mr. Clark, manager, two barrels of spring wheat flour, two fifty-pound sacks of Snowdrop brand and eight twenty-five-pound sacks of Pride of Kendallville constituted the plunder of the thieves. Whether any corn meal and other feed was stolen is not known, as a considerable amount of the company's product was sacked about the mill.

Entrance to the mill was gained by breaking the windows in the engine room.

GIVES PUBLIC PARK.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weller Make Donation to Portland.

Portland, Ind., Jan. 10.—Four acres of ground, to be used for public park purposes, have been donated the city by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weller, prominent Portland residents, according to an announcement made at the regular meeting of the city council. The land is a part of the Wilson estate and is located near the water works station. The council has planned to beautify the grounds next spring.

The gift came as a complete surprise, it is said, even to the members of the city administration. Mr. Weller purchased the land several days ago but the transaction was completed only a few hours before council convened.

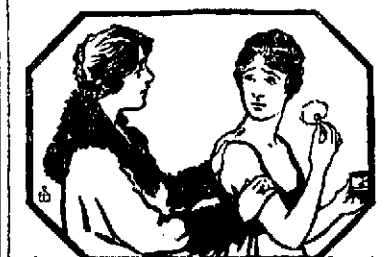

Mr. and Mrs. Weller have been instrumental in Portland receiving many gifts of value. Mr. Weller is a leading business man here and has been prominent in commercial circles. He was instrumental in the city establishing a hospital here. One-third of the total hospital fund, it is said, was donated by him.

DR. HURTY AT MONTPELIER.

Montpelier, Ind., Jan. 10.—Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health officer, will be in the city on Tuesday, January 16, and speak in the assembly hall at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Dr. Hurty comes to the city under the auspices of the grade department of the Parent-Teacher association of the city, and the association urges that all parents in the city, who can, be present and hear his address, which will be of interest to every father and mother. Dr. Hurty is the strongest man the association has yet had to come to the city, and there is hardly a person who would not be pleased to hear him on subjects pertaining to schools and school children.

AND NOW THERE IS A SHORTAGE OF WOOLENS

Evidence Is That the Price of Clothing Will Be Much Higher Next Fall.

NO RELIEF IS IN SIGHT

The alarming shortage of woollens and other materials used in the manufacture of clothing will make wearing apparel very high priced next fall. The greater part of the woolen crop is imported from Australia. Since the European war began, exacting the heavy toll on the woolen market, Australian wool has not entered American ports, and the foreign consumption has created an actual wool famine in this country. The comparatively small amount raised in the United States is inadequate to supply the heavy demands of the American manufacturers.

The shortage does not apply to woollens alone, but it applies to every article used in the manufacture of clothing, consequently good clothing has advanced rapidly and will continue to do so at an alarming rate. Dealers here state that even if the war should stop suddenly there is every indication that woollen materials would continue to soar for some time, and there seems to be no relief in sight.

The accompanying newspaper clipping gives an inkling of the clothing situation. Fabrics of this season's quality are scarce NOW. Good clothing will be scarce and high-priced because of the shortage of all necessary materials, consequently the market will be flooded with cheap, shoddy clothing at prices which will be higher than you pay now for Hart Schaffner & Marx, and other good clothing.

In anticipation of such a situation we bought heavily of the finest clothing while lower prices prevailed, with the result that we have been able to sell you the very best at from ten to twenty per cent. under other stores in the state. Knowing this, and realizing the extraordinary values which we offer, people have come from a hundred miles around to secure their immediate and future clothing needs. During our Removal Sale, which is now in progress, we have discounted our stock ten to thirty per cent. more.

Is it any wonder that our tremendous and complete assortments are melting away under the terrific onslaught of the hundreds of buyers who are leaving the store with a stronger realization than ever before that this is "the store that does things?" Political Lines Not Drawn

The United States senate's passage, by a vote of 55 to 32, of the Sheppard bill to abolish saloons in the District of Columbia after November 1 next is no less interesting as an accomplished fact than by the obliteration of party lines in its achievement. If serious effort was made by the liquor interests to save the drinkeries in the national capital by seeking to line up one political party in opposition to prohibition, it failed most dismally. The vote shows so complete an independence that it leaves no basis whatever for supposing that any political party is going to stand sponsor for the saloon.

The proposed amendment, supported by the liquor interests, to submit the question to a referendum vote of the citizens of Washington, all but crept through in advance of the final test on the bill itself, the referendum losing by a tie vote of 43 to 43. There were 26 democrats and 27 republicans voting for the referendum, while 22 democrats and 21 republicans lined up against it.

In the vote on the bill itself there was a realignment that encompassed its passage safely, but did not in the least disturb the independent character of the action. Twenty-eight democrats and 27 republicans supported the "dry" measure, while opposed to it were 22 democrats and 10 republicans. Senator Kern, democrat, and Senator Watson, republican, Indiana's divided representation in the upper house, each voted for the passage of the prohibition measure. The measure now goes to the house, where similarly favorable action is still needed to make it a law. Friends of the bill assert their confidence that it will safely pass the house, and that there, as in the senate, it will be acted upon as a moral and not a political measure. The augury is a hopeful one. When we can be assured that our legislative bodies will judge moral questions on a moral basis, business issues on a business basis, and leave political alignment for purely political questions, we will have taken a long step forward in governmental affairs.

Governor Goodrich has already come up against a fight in his effort to oust Mr. Lee from the public service commission, but things will not begin to liven up in real fashion until he presses his recommendation for the abolition of some of the offices which he wants to do away with. The rest of the brethren can maintain some degree of complacency so long as it is merely Ed Lee and not the job that is hanging in the balance. Elimination of Mr. Lee would pave the way for some other patriot. Elimination of an office itself kills off everybody's chances and is an altogether different matter in the view of those who want it.

Fort Wayne banks and trust companies held their annual elections of directors and officers on Tuesday, a function that in recent years has increased largely in public interest because of the splendid growth and the added importance year by year of these great financial interests. Fort Wayne is tremendously proud of its banks and its trust companies. They are a tower of strength, and it is gratifying to see that each is steadily growing and constantly increasing its measure of fine service to the community.

A scientific civic analyst has been engaged to write a series of articles telling Indianapolis what's the matter with it, but capital city folk might as well prepare right now to expect a sharp disagreement with the diagnosis. Cities as a rule do not relish being told their shortcomings any more thoroughly than do individuals—and there is scarcely a finer field in which to waste effort than to attempt to tell some man where he's all wrong on things that have become matters of settled conviction with him.

With arguments under way in the supreme court, the fight over the Adamson eight-hour railroad law has reached a stage where the layman's pathway of understanding becomes clouded and the task of keeping in intelligent touch with the progress of the fight approaches the hopeless. He can only wait and hope.

A British firm has underbid American shell-makers on sixteen-inch shells for the United States navy—possibly because American munitions makers, recently accustomed to shoving up the price on their stuff as a daily diversion, find the habit difficult to break, and didn't include it in their New Year resolutions.

Just about the time the public has succeeded in forgetting Harry Thaw, something else turns up to convince it that it wasted a mighty lot of sloppy sympathy on that young man in former years. The newest charge that he kidnapped and brutally horsewhipped a young schoolboy is one of the things that give emphasis to the conclusion.

Suffragists who propose to place "silent sentinels" about the White House in eloquent argument for their cause may be able to place the pickets on duty, all right—but can they remain silent and see such splendid opportunities to get in a word for the cause go utterly to waste?

But thirty bills were introduced in the Indiana legislature on the day which provided the first opportunity for that sort of thing—but don't worry, brother. The rest of them will be coming along soon.

Sketches from Life . . . By Temple

country that will be exhausted before gasoline supply. It is the thing called public patience.

Something Else Will Be Exhausted

To excuse the swift rise in gasoline prices, one of the big guns in the oil business tells the public that the end of the country's supply of oil and gasoline is almost in sight. So what would you expect?

In 138 years, at the present rate, all the oil wells will be as dry as a patent office report. Therefore, dig up the extra price and be cheerful about it.

This, though sounding plausible, is bunk. As a matter of fact, nobody in America, outside of the oil companies, need give a hoot whether there is much gasoline in sight or little or none at all.

Because, for motor purposes, anyway, denatured alcohol is better and cheaper and there is no end to it—oil would be none if the oil gets out, others would kindly let us use it.

From the throw-away potatoes, cut apples, kitchen garbage or weeds on his place an average farmer, for instance, can get all the motor juice he needs to run automobile and tractor, and get it at a fraction of the price he pays to Mr. Rockefeller's pleasing concern.

Nothing stands in the way but the strange opposition of the government. It might help the farmer to this relief and instead it makes rules and regulations that keep him tied up to the oil monopoly.

At this moment, according to all accounts, Germany is running a large part of her autos and army trucks with alcohol cheaply made from refuse.

But Germany doesn't have any great, powerful and subtly managed oil monopoly snoopers around the halls of government.

Says Russell W. Wright in Third Article on Phases of Taxation.

(By Russell W. Wright, A. B., A. M.) In my former article attention was called to the fact there was a lack of uniformity in the assessment of the taxes in the state. This has always been the serious defect in our tax system. So much attention has been given to the administration of the tax laws that the plan has been called the "Indiana System."

This article will be a short sketch of the development of this phase of our tax law. In the time, when Indiana was a territory, the assessors were appointed and worked under the direction of central authorities. When the change was made to a state the administration of the tax laws became completely decentralized. The assessors were elected with no supervision other than a local board to equalize between the townships.

In 1838 it was recommended by a committee from the house that there be some means of equalization between the counties of the state. They recommended a state board or district boards to equalize the assessments. No action was taken at this time. Two years later a state board was organized consisting of one member from each of the eleven judicial districts of the state. This board was dissolved at the next session of the legislature as the time was not ripe for this step in centralization.

The tax law of 1852, which put the provision in the new constitution into effect, called for three boards for the equalization of taxes. The first was a local board consisting of the auditor, the commissioners and the appraisers. The next higher was the district board, consisting of the auditors of the counties of the congressional districts, having power to equalize between the counties of the district. The third board was composed of one member of each of the district boards and the auditor of state with power of equalization between the districts. In 1859 the latter board was given power over county equalization.

In 1873 the district boards were abolished. The state board was reorganized to consist of the governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary-of-state, auditor and treasurer. They were also given the power of assessment of stock of corporations. The latter was taken away in 1877 with the exception of the assessment of railroad stock.

The present tax law, which was written in 1891, provided for a board known as the state board of tax commissioners. This board consists of three members appointed by the governor with powers of equalization between the counties and the assessment of certain forms of property. The board has directive and supervisory powers over the local assessors. Within recent years conferences have been held before the assessments are made at which times the assessors and the board meet and discuss the policy to be adopted. This has resulted in much good in getting a higher degree of uniformity.

While the writer is of the opinion that the general property tax cannot be made to work with satisfaction or justice, much can be done to remedy conditions. In case the constitution permits only the general property tax then we must accept what remedies we can in the administration of the laws.

Centralization of the taxing system is the key to the situation. Inequality and lack of uniformity have always followed local administration of the tax laws in this and other states. Centralization is necessary if the property is assessed uniformly over the state.

One reform would be to give the state board power to equalize property classes. At it now is provided the board must raise all classes if any change is made. For example, suppose horses are assessed as 40 per cent of their value and notes at 100 per cent if the state board wishes to raise the valuation of horses to 50 per cent they must also raise the valuation of notes making them assessed at 110 per cent of their valuation. This reform would permit the raising of any kind of property to a more just valuation than can now be done.

Another reform would be to have all assessors appointed through civil service and have those selected who are experts in the class in which they are to work. It could be also advisable to reduce the number of assessors and make the work continuous.

An example of what can be done by expert assessors was recently shown in Wayne county, where in the assessment of real estate, experts in farm values assessed the farm real estate, a retired manufacturer assessed the corporations and so on down the line. The result was much more satisfactory than was anticipated.

What is the Cause of Rheumatism, Lumbago and Gout?

(By Valentine Mott Pierce, M. D.)

Ever since Scheele, in 1775, discovered that uric acid was present in the system, scientific men have been making experimental investigations and it is the almost universal opinion of our best medical men that the presence of uric acid in the system in excess is the cause of rheumatism and gout. When more uric acid is precipitated out of the blood into the solid tissue-structure the person suffers from gout or rheumatism in the muscles and joints, or suffers from lumbago and pain in the back muscles. The first aim of the sufferer should be to get rid of the uric acid, which, in excess, is a poison, and to do this it is well to drink a pint of hot water morning and night—get tablets of Anuric at the nearest drug store and take them before meals regularly. Anuric will do no harm to the system and will carry off the uric acid by stimulating the kidneys. Then tincture iodine may be painted over the swellings, or in more severe cases hot linseed poultices may be applied to soothe the local symptoms. But most important is it for the sufferer to abstain from red meat, to diet, drink only lemonade or hot water and take Anuric for a considerable time as it causes a drainage outward of the uric acid and is many times more potent than lithia and usually one finds that it dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar.—Advertisement.

WAGES IN THE MIDDLE WEST

Advance in Some Quarters, Stand Almost Still in Others.

Reports to The Associated Press Give General View of Situation.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—A survey of wage conditions in various business centers of the middle west in the year just ended has brought out a somewhat diversified situation, the trend moving toward increased pay for labor of nearly all kinds in most quarters but standing almost still in a few others.

In Illinois there were substantial wage advances in many lines of industry, particularly iron manufacturing, lumber working, clothing making, printing, leather handling and manufacture of harvesting machinery.

The iron workers got better than a 30 per cent raise during the year. First came a 10 per cent advance; then another 10 per cent rise and finally a third uplift of 10 per cent, each raise being calculated on the salary total made by the previous raises. The iron workers included molders, open hearth furnace operators and other employees in similar labor in Chicago, East St. Louis, Rockford, Peoria, Moline, Rock Island and Waukegan.

Lumber Mill Workers.
Lumber mill workers were paid, at the beginning of 1916, from $1.50 to $1.75 for common day labor, but before the year closed their wages were advanced to $2.00 and $2.50 per day. Those mill hands who were paid by the week, earning $15 each six days, were given a bonus of 5 per cent before the close of last year, and were afterward advanced to $16 per week and then to $17 and that bonus was continued in both cases. The lumber teamsters' wages averaged $16 per week when a five-year contract was adopted whereby their wages were increased to $17 per week for the first two and a half years and to $18 per week for the remainder of the five-year term.

Clothing manufacturers have allowed wage increases of from 10 to 15 per cent, affecting about 50,000 workers in Illinois, mostly in Chicago, and harvesting implement manufacturers have raised the wages of common labor 10 per cent and also have made advances in piecework but on a varied percentage according to the class of work.

Printing house employees have been given a 12 per cent increase in Chicago, other parts of Cook county and in Hammond, Ind., involving about 20,000 workers.

Leather manufacturers made advances in 1916 varying from 10 to 15 per cent and affecting approximately 20,000 workers in the great leather-making districts of Chicago, Milwaukee, Waukegan and Racine, Wis., the last named noted as a sole leather and harness leather manufacturing locality.

Higher in Cincinnati.
In Cincinnati wages are reported higher than they were a year ago but in Ohio generally there have been practically no increases except to the laborers employed in the establishments operated by machinery companies.

Two large paper companies in Indianapolis have announced raises in wages amounting in one case to a bonus of $13,000 and in another to a bonus of $4,000. In Indianapolis and the state generally, however, few announcements of wage increases have been made.

The situation in Michigan shows many favorable aspects. A report issued by the board of commerce of Detroit said that in Detroit and the manufacturing villages of Hamtramck, Highland Park and River Rouge, which are essentially part of Detroit's commercial life, the number of factory wage earners and salaried office employees was reported as being for the year just closed 223,000, an increase over the previous year of 29,206. A canvass made last October by board of commerce showed an average increase of 13 per cent in wages, but in some lines it is slightly more than that and in a few individual cases it is much higher.

Special Machine Workers.
Desire of manufacturers for the services of toolmakers, draftsmen and special machine workers led to a demand for labor that broke all records in Michigan. The labor situation in the state was marked by little unrest, the exceptions being a strike of patternmakers for a nine-hour day with ten hours' pay and a strike of cigar-makers which was of some violence. In the Bay City district wage increases have varied from a few cents for textile workers to as high as 50 and even 75 per cent for expert toolmakers.

There have been in this district wage increases of from 5 to 18 cents per hour in building trades and laborers are still reported scarce in those lines. Jackson, Mich., reports prosperity and best wages for common day labor paid for some time, the workers earning from $2.50 to $2.75 per day. Barbers got a 10 per cent increase and molders were given a raise of 50 cents per day of nine hours. School teachers and janitors have been granted increases ranging from 7 to 10 per cent.

Advances in Wisconsin.
Nearly all employees in every industry in Wisconsin have obtained wage advances (with exception of clerks and office employees), according to a report made by James A. Fetterly, secretary of the retail and credit division of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association who has just completed a general survey. Skilled labor has benefited to the extent of an advance in wages amounting to from 40 to 100 per cent. Various manufacturing concerns have enlarged their pay rolls from 25 to 70 per cent and have maintained their full quota of employees.

Minnesota reports general wage increases ranging from 5 to 20 per cent by a number of the greatest manufacturing and other business concerns of the state. Two small increases were

To keep pace with the growth of commerce this constructive work must continue.

It can continue only as the public sees to it that the railroads are granted just compensation, that regulation and wage demands are fair, so that there may be a sufficient margin of receipts over expenditures to pay a reasonable return on the investment and make provision for future development.

Tribute to Mr. Bass.

John H. Bass, one of the pioneer bankers in Fort Wayne, resigned Tuesday as president of the First National bank, being succeeded by Charles H. Worden, and also as director of the Old National bank, this action being taken in compliance with section 8 of the Clayton anti-trust law, which went into effect last October and which forbids the interlocking system of directorates. Stockholders of the Old National passed the following resolution, which was signed by Henry C. Paul, president, and Stephen Morris, cashier:

"Resolved, That it is with profound regret that the stockholders of this bank are prevented from again electing Mr. John H. Bass, one of its directors, by reason of the law of congress, which prohibits any person from being a director or other officer of more than one bank which has deposits, capital, surplus and undivided profits aggregating more than $500,000.

"Mr. Bass has been a director of this bank and its predecessor—the Fort Wayne National bank—continuously for a period of more than forty years. By his great interest in and constant labor for the welfare of the bank and his uniform courtesy and kindness, he has endeared himself to every officer, director and stockholder of the bank. By his powers of industry, his great executive ability, his integrity and great force of character, he has contributed as much as any other single individual to the material and financial growth, not only of this bank, but of the city of Fort Wayne also.

"The stockholders of this bank in regular annual meeting assembled, extend to him their sincere wishes for many more years of health, happiness and usefulness."

MACHINE GUN RUNS WILD; PEPPERS CITY

Device Escapes Control of Testers; Fires Fusillade at Hartford.

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 10.—Hundreds of persons had miraculous escapes from death and considerable property was damaged in Hartford's business section yesterday when a machine gun, shooting 300 bullets a minute escaped control of the testers at the proving grounds of the Colt Patent Firearms company.

Factory managers were vague in explaining how the gun became unmanageable.

The Colt factory is located a mile from the most distant point at which a bullet was reported. This was in the office of Dr. Frederick T. Simpson at 122 High street, where a .45 calibre bullet crashed through a window and pierced two walls in the house.

A shower of bullets struck and almost penetrated one of the steel tanks of the Hartford City Gas Light company, about half a mile from the gun, and scattered a number of workmen who were oiling the tank's ways and girder rollers. Another batch of the bullets struck St. Patrick's Catholic church.

SAYS BODY IS A POISON FACTORY

Urges everyone to drink glass of hot water before breakfast.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and poisonous-like nations are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

granted the employers of the street car company and a big flour making company granted its seventeen hundred workers advances of from 10 to 15 per cent. A steel and machinery company, employing nearly three thousand men, granted them two general increases of 10 per cent each in the year just closed.

Skilled and common labor alike have been benefited by comparatively recent wage increases in Kentucky, according to figures gathered by private investigators. Data as to increases were available only in the cities, Louisville being the main source of information.

In the large institutions the reports showed they ranged from 23 per cent for 700 employees of a large wagon factory to 10 per cent for approximately 1,850 persons employed in cotton and flour mills and machine shops. In one instance an estimated average of 5 per cent increase was reported for 300 railroad clerks and in another a salary bonus of 10 per cent for 350 employees of a wholesale paint concern was cited.

A comparatively small number of concerns were able to state the amount the higher wages involved. Those so reporting, however, estimated the increased annual outlay in wages at $612,000.

Common Labor Increases.
Increases for common labor, the investigators learned, had increased five cents an hour to twenty cents, with employment more general than for several years.

According to Texas statistics compiled by C. W. Woodman, state labor commissioner, salaries of wage-earners in that state have not increased as much as the cost of food products. His figures show that during the last year the wage of unskilled labor has increased only 2 per cent, as compared with the previous year, and for skilled labor the increase has been between 4 and 8 per cent. Only about 10 per cent of the organized labor in Texas had any increases at all, and the increase of this 10 per cent, has ranged from 10 to 40 per cent. While many of the industries in Texas have granted slight increases in wages, the bulk of them, according to Commissioner Woodman have made no advances.

On the other hand, he figures that the increase in the cost of living has been between 40 and 50 per cent. In fact this increase is working a hardship on wage earners in the lumber district of East Texas.

Port Worth granted increases of 5 per cent, to all motormen and conductors on the street car line and the packing companies of that city made the same increase in wages equal to those given in Chicago and Kansas City plants in all workmen.

Situation in Nebraska.
Wages paid by the 454 manufacturing and the 426 jobbing concerns in Omaha were advanced an average of from 10 to 12 1/2 per cent, during 1916, according to E. V. Parrish, manager of the publicity bureau of the Omaha commercial club.

Data collected by Mr. Parrish shows that the meat packing houses, the most extensive single industry represented here, have raised the wages of their 9,000 employees 17 per cent. As their pay rolls in 1915 aggregated $10,000,000 in round numbers, the increase is approximately $1,700,000 annually.

HASHED TURNIPS.

BY BIDDY BEE.

Turnips are generally spoiled by overcooking. The flat white turnip when sliced will cook in thirty minutes. Winter turnips require from forty-five to sixty minutes. Here is Uncle Sam's recipe for Hashed Turnips:

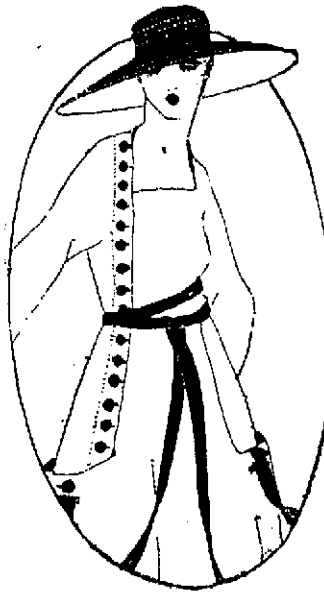

Chop boiled turnips. Return to the stewpan and for a pint and a half of turnips add a teaspoonful salt, one-fourth teaspoonful pepper, a tablespoonful butter and 4 tablespoonful water. Cook over a very hot fire until the turnips have absorbed all the seasonings. Serve at once.

Or the salt, pepper, butter and a tablespoonful of flour may be added to the hashed turnips; then the stewpan may be placed over the hot fire and shaken frequently to toss up the turnips. When the turnips have been cooking 5 minutes add half a pint of meat stock or milk and cook ten minutes.

"Canopy Hat" is Coming Next

(By Betty Brown.)

The sports hats we will all be wearing next spring have just come into full blossom at Palm Beach. As you will see from this sketch I've made from Fashion Art Magazine, our 1917 sports hat is something of a canopy. It is made of black Georgette crepe faced with white. Rows of tiny white china beads span the crown and the edge of the brim.

POSTPONE MEETING OF
Y. W. C. A. DIRECTORSNew Members of Board Will Be Elected
Friday.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Y. W. C. A., which was scheduled to be held Wednesday morning, has been postponed one week and will be held next Wednesday. Annual reports are being made up by the secretaries of the various departments now, and the directors' session was postponed until these were ready.

The annual election of members to the board of directors will be held Friday in the lobby of the association building. The polls will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening. Up to this time only a small percentage of the members have taken advantage of the ballot, and the secretaries are making an attempt to get everybody to vote.

The house committee met Tuesday and considered the question of putting up cards in railway stations and other public buildings directing girls to the Y. W. C. A. This will probably be put into effect soon.

Also every voter must present his poll tax receipt for the past two years in order to be eligible to vote.

STRUCK AT OFFICER WHO INSPECTED BARNAnna Miller Will Continue to Battle Prosecution, She Says.

Alfred C. Aubrey, city health officer, did not inspect the barn at the rear of the home of Anna Miller, 714 West Creighton avenue, Tuesday morning.

He did not carry his sanitary research into the clappboard building because Anna Miller said he could not. When he started past her through the door, she struck at him, he told in police court Wednesday morning.

Aubrey covered his face with his arm and backed away from the barn, he admitted.

Police Bailiff George Eisenhut also experienced trouble in impressing the dignity of the law upon the woman when he called at her house, two hours later, to charge her with interfering with the health officer.

She did not answer the rap of Officer Eisenhut upon the back door until she was afraid that the door glass would tumble in.

When she did call out it was to tell Eisenhut that he could not come in, the officer testified.

Eisenhut threatened to kick in the door. The woman then opened the portal and heard the summons to appear in the city court.

She was present when court was called Wednesday morning. She heard her neighbors tell how she had objected to children even skating on the walk in front of her home.

When testimony had been submitted she demanded a lawyer. Judge Kerr told her that witnesses would not be brought back to the court room. She will have her attorney settle that, she said. The case was continued until Thursday morning.

Meecher Was Sorry.
Paul Meecher, employed in the Pennsylvania round house, went until the flowing tears had formed many streaked rivulets down his coal charred face, Wednesday morning, when he took the witness stand to answer a charge of petit larceny.

Police had caught him in the act of carrying coal away from the Pennsylvania railroad yards. He thought he was allowed to take the coal, he said. He was released.

Still Is Fined.
Whether Joseph Stoll employed aid of a chair on Mike Davis or not, when he extracted the young man from the Randall hotel pool room, last Sunday, he was at least somewhat rough in his matter of putting Davis out, Judge Kerr held. He fined Stoll $1 and costs on the charge of assault and battery.

Fight Over War Forgotten.
Ernest Kraemer, 1146 Lafayette street, did not appear against Louis Havert, who is charged with attacking Kraemer, Sunday night. Kraemer told police it was only a "sociable fight" and he would not have Havert handled.

The pair fought because of different opinions on the subject of the European war.

Other Police Court Cases.
Archie Sharp, charged with child neglect is held under $200 bond for trial on Wednesday.

Fines for public intoxication were: John Jackson, $5; Walter Comb, $5; Andrew Smith, $5; John Sealer, $1; Richard Simmons, John Freeman, Floyd Hoyt, Harris Overly, John Olse, Jim Jones and Godfried Biederman were released.

Samuel Atterbury, charged with loitering, was released.

BAYER RECHOSEN.

Selection as Head of Council is Made
By Acclamation.

William A. Bayer was renamed chairman of the city council at the Tuesday night session. His selection was by acclamation, after Jacob Hartman, whose name had been suggested, announced that he would not oppose Bayer for the place. Eugene Smith was rechosen as vice president.

Ordinance asking $1,000 for incidental expenses incurred in attending to preliminary matters relating to the proposed convention hall, was passed by the council. This sum includes the $470 traveling expenses of the councilmen, board of works members and other officials who toured the middle west in the interest of the auditorium.

Raise of $600 in salary of the police chief, as recommended by the board of safety, was referred to the finance committee. It is proposed to pay the chief of police $2,400 instead of $1,800.

Resolution asking the state legislature to pass a bill, now pending, and designed to change the number of school trustees in Fort Wayne from three to five, to be elected by the people at large instead of by the city council, was referred to the education committee. Report will be made at the next council session.

Contract for construction of a roof for the reservoir, recently let by the works board, was referred to the committee on contracts. The same committee was ordered to report on the board of works contract to Charles Boeger, permitting him to construct a side track across McDonald street.

DIX WILL HEAD NEW MUNICIPAL LEAGUEFort Wayne Has Prominent Part in Forming Power Plant Union.

Frank J. Dix, superintendent of the Fort Wayne Electric Light plant, was elected president of the newly formed Indiana Association of Municipal Utilities at Indianapolis Tuesday. John Alt was elected secretary-treasurer of the association.

John Wessel, Jr., acted as temporary chairman in calling the gathering to order. Ten prominent cities of Indiana were represented in the first assembly of the association. Mayor Hosey addressed the meeting on the general subject of relation of state utilities commission to municipalities. He lauded the motives of the commission, but denied its practicability as a power to govern actions of city plants.

Tests More Water.
Network of many water samples is being drawn about the point where contamination enters the city water mains. State Chemist J. C. Diggs was busy Wednesday gathering twelve more samples and starting new tests. Examination of the water requires more than twenty-four hours. He is not yet prepared to report result on the samples gathered on Tuesday. He will test the water in every part of the city during his week's stay here, he says.

Bayer Rechosen.
Selection as Head of Council is Made By Acclamation.

William A. Bayer was renamed chairman of the city council at the Tuesday night session. His selection was by acclamation, after Jacob Hartman, whose name had been suggested, announced that he would not oppose Bayer for the place. Eugene Smith was rechosen as vice president.

Ordinance asking $1,000 for incidental expenses incurred in attending to preliminary matters relating to the proposed convention hall, was passed by the council. This sum includes the $470 traveling expenses of the councilmen, board of works members and other officials who toured the middle west in the interest of the auditorium.

Raise of $600 in salary of the police chief, as recommended by the board of safety, was referred to the finance committee. It is proposed to pay the chief of police $2,400 instead of $1,800.

Resolution asking the state legislature to pass a bill, now pending, and designed to change the number of school trustees in Fort Wayne from three to five, to be elected by the people at large instead of by the city council, was referred to the education committee. Report will be made at the next council session.

PRICE GOES UP.
City Will Pay $1,200 More for Cast Iron Water Pipes.

There is also a higher cost of cast iron water pipes. Hamand-Bryd company, of Chicago, was lowest bidder and was given contract Tuesday afternoon for furnishing 300 tons of cast iron piping for Fort Wayne this year. Their bid was $40.20 per ton. Five companies, whose representatives appeared before the works board to submit bids, were from Alabama, Pennsylvania, Ohio, southern Indiana and Chicago. Bids ran to $40.70.

Last year the piping was bought for $28.39 per ton. The 300 tons cost little over $8,000. Price of the metal has gone up. This year Fort Wayne will pay $12,000 for the pipes with which to carry on extension of its water lines.

OPPORTUNITY CIRCLE OPENS DAY NURSERY

King's Daughters Conduct
Home for Children in Old Cressler House.

Under the auspices of the Opportunity Circle of the King's Daughters a day nursery has been opened in the house located on the Plymouth Congregational church property at Berry street and Fairfield avenue, formerly the Cressler home. This day nursery will be conducted under the same plans as the one which was conducted in the Rescue Mission building last summer.

Mrs. Snyder, who resides in the house where the day nursery is conducted, will have charge of the children who are left there during the day. The nursery is located on the second floor on the east side of the house. Four rooms have been fitted up for this purpose.

Since the opening of this nursery, Monday, one child has been taken care of each day. The members of the circle of King's Daughters announce that they are in need of playthings and equipment for the nursery. Donations will be glad-

WOULD HAVE BEEN A STAR WITNESS

St Andrews, patrol driver, lost his opportunity of being the star witness in police court Wednesday morning. Andrews testified that he found two colored men fighting when he answered a call to Curry's saloon, on Lafayette street. Tuesday night, Mother Comb, one of the negroes, had three bricks in his pocket, and Andrew Smith, the other, carried a pool ball, Andrews said.

"Do you have the evidence?" Deputy Prosecutor Hoffman asked Andrews.

"I've got the pool ball," said St. He retired to the storeroom and returned with a sealed envelope, which held the evidence. He tore one end from the folder and dumped its contents out on the table.

It was a polished lemon which ambled across the polished surface of the prosecutor's desk. Andrews retired in disorder. He says some one of his brother police officers played a joke on him.

RENEWED ATTACKS
BY RUSSIANS FAILCzar's Armies Unable to Beat Back Germanic Advance.

Berlin, Jan. 10.—Renewed Russian attacks with stronger forces were made yesterday southwest of Riga, near the northern end of the Russo-Galician front. The war office announces that these efforts were without success.

Counter attacks made by the Russians yesterday along the northern Rumanian front were beaten back with heavy losses, it is announced officially. The Russians were driven back further along the Kasino valley. Tentative troops advancing north of Fokslani, gained a footing on the left bank of the Putna river.

Of the total number of officers and men in the German army, who were wounded during the second year of the war, 70 per cent, fully recovered and went back to the trenches, according to official figures published today by the German government. Only 6.4 per cent of the wounded were completely unfit for military service and the other men wounded were able to do military duty at home. Twelve hundred and fifty soldiers went blind during the war.

ON THE FRENCH FRONT.
Paris, Jan. 10.—There were no important developments on the French front last night, the war office announces.

ART SMITH NOT YET
GRANTED A DIVORCEAviator's Action Still to Be Called in San Francisco.

If Art Smith, world-famed aviator, has been quietly granted a divorce he does not know it, he says. Further, more he has not received official notice from his attorneys that his wife, Mrs. Almee Cour-Smith, has decided not to contest the case.

Smith says he expects the divorce to be settled after he returns to San Francisco, which may be several weeks.

Developments in the project of organizing "The Art Smith Aviation company," for the manufacture of flying machines, will govern his action, he says. He thinks the company will be formed. His manager is in New York in an effort to interest eastern capitalists in the plan at this time. Smith says. Probably the manufacturing plant will be located in Chicago or Detroit, Smith thinks.

Smith will go to San Francisco in a few weeks. He will make several test flights there. He expects to leave for Japan about the third week in February. He will be in Japan two months, he says.

Then he may return and quit the flying game, he repeated. His future will depend on the success of the proposed aviation company.

ABOITE TOWNSHIP
FARMER DROPS DEAD

While visiting at the Jennings farm, a half mile from his home, Wednesday morning, Alvin J. Stauffer, aged sixty-five years, a well known farmer of Aboite township, dropped dead. He walked the distance between the two farms and shortly after arriving he toppled over. He was carried into his neighbor's home and a physician was summoned. He died, however, before medical aid arrived.

Coroner J. E. McArdle, of this city, was summoned and he pronounced death due to heart failure. Mr. Stauffer had suffered from attacks of heart trouble for many years. Wednesday morning, however, he was apparently in the best of health.

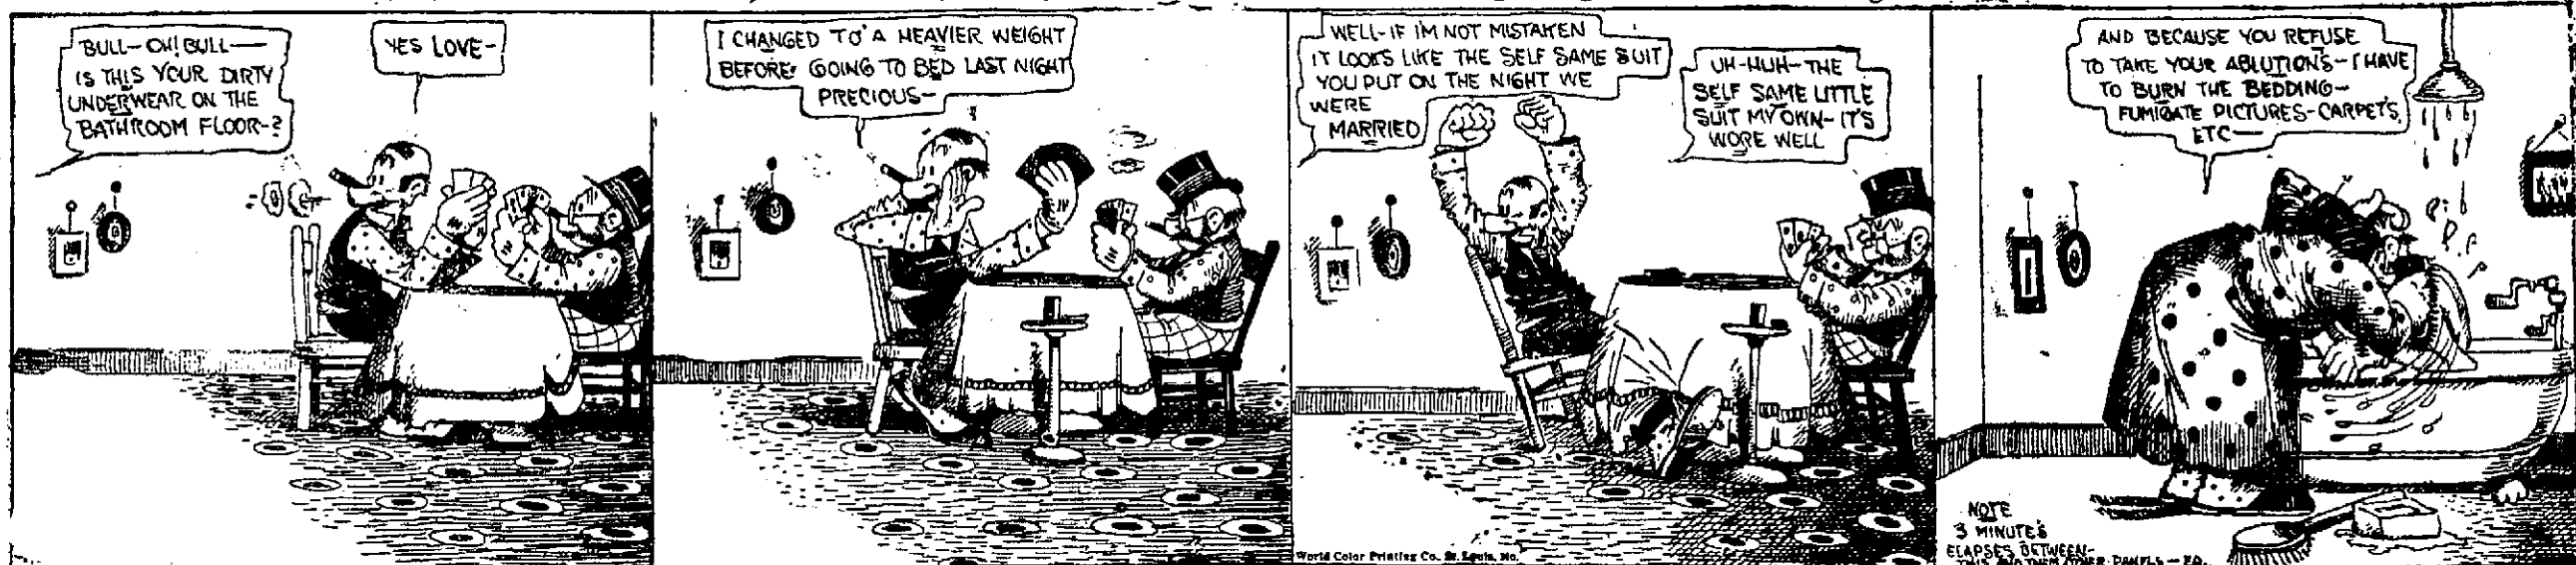

The deceased resided in Aboite township, on the Liberty Mills road, nine miles southwest of the city. He had resided there for many years.

He is survived by the widow and two children, Alvin, Jr., and Mrs. Ennah Cleaves. There are also two grandchildren.

Will Hold Meeting and Make Definition of an Amateur.

New York, Jan. 10.—"Is lawn tennis to be placed once and for all upon an absolute amateur basis or left exposed to the dangers of commercialism?" According to President George T. Adee, in a letter addressed to all members of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, this is the issue which will be brought squarely before the delegates at the annual meeting of the organization to be held in this city February 9.

In explaining the need for decisive action on the definition of an amateur President Adee states that the executive committee feels strongly that the possibilities of professionalizing tennis is by no means remote unless a definite stand is taken now. Four of the principal governing bodies of sport in the United States have adopted the theory that the basic principle of all amateur sports is that no man should be allowed to commercialize his skill or prominence in any game and still remain an amateur. These four organizations are: The Amateur Athletic union, Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America, National Collegiate Athletic association and the United States Golf association.

"Can tennis afford to lag behind?" asks President Adee. "Continuing the tennis association executive asserts that every sport where professional tendencies have been unchecked shows marks of degeneration. He insists that influences hostile to the best interests of track and field athletics, baseball, golf and football cannot be helpful to tennis.

Referring to the sporting goods issue in tennis, the president insists that a prominent tennis player is hired to represent a firm, either behind the counter or on the courts, not for his selling ability but on account of his tennis reputation. In conclusion the president asks the members to determine the issue without substituting personalities for principles and places the responsibility for shaping the policies of the association on each member's vote.

Accompanying the letter is a list of the proposed amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, the matter being printed in such form as to give a comprehensive outline of the changes to be considered at the coming meeting.

MIDNIGHT PARTIES TABOOED BY COACH

Members of High School Squad Must Keep the Training Rules.

Midnight parties have been stricken from the curriculum of these high school students who aspire to positions on the varsity basketball squad, according to Coach Wright. Training rules will be strictly observed from now on or the players will turn in their suits in disgrace and return to the ranks of the student body.

At the beginning of the season Coach Wright laid down a few simple training rules regarding smoking and late hours before the games, and told the candidates for positions on the team that it was up to them to make any more than were necessary for their personal benefit.

The coach has learned that the smoking rules has been considered somewhat of a joke and that several of the players were on a party the night before the game last week enjoying the cool evening air in the wee small hours. According to the coach, this is a trifle too late to turn in the night before playing a game. At least, there will be no more of it for the boys, and the fact was made known to them at practice last evening.

Friday night the girls' and boys' teams will play a double-header against the teams representing the Decatur high school. An attempt is being made here to get fifty students to accompany the team, in which case a special car will be chartered.

THE 9-10 SPLIT

Seventh of eight lessons in spare bowling by "Count" John Gengler, the Belgian star, now bowling in the United States and ranked next to Jimmie Smith, the world champion.

Roll a straight ball down the right side of the alley, striking directly between the two pins. The same rule applies for the 7-8 or 8-9 splits.

CRASH! BANG!! WOMAN EARNS HER LIVING BY TEACHING BOWLING!

MRS. GERTRUDE DORNGLASER, WHO MAKES HER LIVING BY TEACHING WOMEN HOW TO BOWL.

BY PAUL PURMAN.
A natural aptitude for bowling combined with perfection gained by years of practice has not only provided pleasure for Mrs. Gertrude Dorngraser of Chicago, Illinois state women's bowling champion, but has given her a means of livelihood. Mrs. Dorngraser is the only woman professor of bowling in the world and has a large class of amateur pin shooters. "I have bowled since I was a kiddie," Mrs. Dorngraser said. "In fact, I was bowling long before most girls have forgotten about their dolls. "I have found it an ideal game for women. It develops nimbleness of foot and keenness of eye, furnishes plenty of fun and good sport without too much exertion."

Sane dressing for the woman who would bowl is one of the first lessons Mrs. Dorngraser teaches her pupils. "A woman can't bowl in tight stays and high heel shoes," she says. "The ideal dress for bowling is a short skirt, loose blouse, no corset and low-heeled elastic shoes. "A woman shouldn't allow bowling or other outside activities to interfere with her home life. I can make biscuits as well as I bowl and I am just as proud of it, perhaps a little more proud."

TURNERS TAKE GAME FROM DUDLO QUINTET

Shop Leaguers Fail in Start and Gym-men Cop Easy One.

The Turner five put over a good win on the Dudlo shop leaguers last night when the two teams met on the Turner floor. The count at the end stood 47 to 18, with the gym-men near the half-century mark. The winners were ahead at all times in the game and improved as their confidence grew greater. The end of the first division saw the score at 18 to 9, and the Turners did their big scoring after that.

Team play counted big for the winning team and they worked the floor to a great advantage, giving their opponents very little chance to get the ball under the basket, or within scoring distance. Herring did the big work for the losers, being the only member of the visiting team who could score more than once from the field. Every Turner got at least one field goal, while Weberuss, Miller and Lowe registered regularly.

The scoring:
Turners—Weberuss and H. Miller, forwards; Lowe, center; E. Ortlieb and T. Ortlieb, guards.
Dudlos—Wys, Fuss and Hueber, forwards; Herring, center; Kohrman, Kiersple and Wickliff, guards.
Field goals—Weberuss, 3; H. Miller, 7; Lowe, 4; E. Ortlieb, 1; T. Ortlieb, 1; Wys, 1; Herring, 3.
Foul goals—Weberuss, 1; Miller, 2; Herring, 6.
Referee—Wilkens.

Rival Outfits Meet at St. Paul Auditorium Sunday Afternoon.

All arrangements have been completed for the St. Paul-St. Mary's game which will be played at the St. Paul auditorium Sunday afternoon. The last of the preliminary business was settled up last night when Managers J. L. Mueller of St. Paul's and Clarence Alter of St. Mary's put their heads together. Among the questions settled at the conference was that of officials. Pete Dietrick was chosen to handle the game, which is expected to be fast and slightly rough. He is one of the most capable officials in town, however, and will get by beyond a doubt.

George Irmacher has rejoined the Lutherans after over a year's lay-off from regular playing. He has worked this winter, however, and feels that he will be in good condition for the game. Irmacher is a handy man to have on a team, being capable of playing either forward or guard with unusual success. The St. Mary's crew has no additions in its squad and will start the same team which downed the Richmond Quakers.

The seat sale for Sunday afternoon's battle has been opened and the managers have put tickets on sale at both St. Paul's and St. Mary's, besides the Koehlinger drug store and the Lauer cigar store. A large crowd is anticipated for the first game of the city series.

TAKES YEAR TO MAKE WINNING BALL CLUB

Mitchell Says It Can't Be Done in Less Time; Start Trip Feb. 20.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Developing a winning ball club requires at least a year or more in the opinion of Fred Mitchell, the new manager of the Chicago Nationals, who has begun to lay plans for the 1917 season. Mitchell plans to close a couple of trades, if possible, and make several changes to strengthen the club. Deals are pending with St. Louis and Cincinnati, he said. He declines, however, to make any statement in regard to which position the Chicago club will finish in the coming pennant race.

"I would not be doing myself justice," he said. "I do not know exactly what the players are capable of and do not feel that I ought to make predictions for them. I desire to have a little time with them on the training trip before judging what sort of a team I will have. "Ball teams are not made in a couple of months. Sometimes it requires a year or more to develop one. I think, however, that by the end of the coming season, and perhaps before, I will have a team that will be playing winning ball."

Mitchell said he was delighted with the material on the club, but that certain changes would be made.

"I cannot say anything about the pitching staff," Mitchell said, "but I am not going to discard any of them until I have a chance to look them over out on the coast."

The club will start on its spring training trip to Pasadena, Cal., on February 20. The players will make the trip in a special train. There probably will be 150 persons in the party. Six weeks will be spent on the coast.

Cleveland, Jan. 10.—Guy Morton, star of the Cleveland Americans' pitching staff, believes he has regained his old-time speed and control, and will be able to pitch winning ball next season. Morton's arm failed him last season and he was of practically no use to the club, toward the end of the season.

Cleveland, Jan. 10.—Paul Des Jardien, the former University of Chicago football star, has been named manager of the Cleveland Americans in 1917. Des Jardien, manager of the Clevelanders, is a follower of the fall college sport and was deeply interested in the playing of Des Jardien.

"He is the best football player I ever saw," Fohl said. "He not only passes the ball, but gets down on the punts about as fast as the ends and he is a deadly tackler. If I can develop him into half as good a pitcher as he is a football player I'll have one of the star twirlers in the league."

I Blame the Woman Who Lets a Man Drink Says Druggist Brown

Of Cleveland. He Guarantees a Simple Home Treatment Given Without the Knowledge of the Drinker.

Cleveland, O.—No wife has a right to let her husband drink; for alcoholism is a disease and a drunkard is a sick man, says Druggist Brown of Cleveland. A woman can cure this disease—stop a drinking husband in a few weeks for half what he would spend on liquor in the same time. The habit can be broken and the disease cured. Thousands of cases prove it and every community has its reformed drunkard. Druggist Brown says the right time to stop the drink habit is at its beginning. Left to run its course it will deaden the fine sensibilities of the man you love. Begin with the first whiff of liquor on his breath but do not despair if he has already gone from bad to worse until he has become a rum-soaked sot. Druggist Brown knows the cure of knowledge or consent, rescued him from the brink of a drunkard's grave and for ten years kept her secret. She saved him from drink—rescued him from his own depraved, besotted self by giving him a secret remedy, the formula of an old German chemist. To pay his debt to her and to help other victims out of the muck and mire he has made the formula public. Druggists everywhere dispense it daily as Prepared Tescum Powders, put up in doses. Get it of your own druggist and drop a powder twice a day in tea, coffee, milk or other drink. Soon liquor does not taste the same, the craving for it disappears, and lo, one more drunkard has been saved and knows not when or why he lost his taste for drink.

Warning Note: Tescum should be given only where it is desirable to destroy all taste for alcohol and all pleasure in its use. Those who encourage moderate drinking should not give it until the so-called moderate drinker reaches the danger line, as most of them do in time. Druggist Brown has such confidence in Prepared Tescum Powders that he personally guarantees results or he will refund out of his own pocket the charge by the dispensing druggist. It is dispensed in Ft. Wayne by Dreier Drug Co., Meyer Bros. and other druggists.

WESTERN UNION TO TRAIN OPERATORS

Extraordinary Growth in Use of Telegraph.

The Western Union Telegraph company has offered a bonus to about 1,000 manager-operators in small cities and towns for each junior operator such managers shall enlist and train. This unusual step arises out of the extraordinary growth in the use of the telegraph and the consequent need for competent operators to handle the company's business with the dispatch which its standards require.

Any person—man or woman—over the age of sixteen and with the requisite education and intelligence can become a junior operator. The company provides the necessary instruction free. When the junior grade is reached employment is assured.

In the larger cities, telegraph schools are already maintained for teaching operators. These, however, have not been able to turn out a sufficient number of trained men and women to wholly meet the present demands. It is now sought to give persons in smaller places as well as the cities an opportunity to study telegraphy either by exclusive application or in conjunction with their other employment.

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, can't we? Digest well, work well, sleep well and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast.—Advertisement.

It Is to Laugh Think It Over

Everything that is sold cannot be a "bargain," else the commercial world would soon be bankrupt. In order to continue in business merchants must at some time make a profit. A business that features so-called "bargain sales" must at some time mark goods at an excessive profit, thus making some of their customers help carry their losses. Exaggeration flows easily and smoothly from many retail sources, but claims are ineffective unless backed by facts. We prefer to credit the people with intelligence and powers of discrimination. There are circumstances that warrant reduced prices, but regular goods must have their important place—on regular stock goods we always hold the prices to the lowest point consistent with our standard high quality.

THIS IS A SAFE STORE
You get what you think you are getting. A dollar's worth for a dollar.

We invite comparison of quality and price. Our regular prices will be found in many instances lower than so-called sale prices.

Excess Stock Sales

Unequaled opportunities to obtain unprecedented values are offered during our January sales in all departments. You will find good merchandise marked at very low prices to make an absolute clearance before new goods come in. The quality of our merchandise protects you from getting anything but that which is good, no matter how low the price.

Housekeeping Linens

This is linen month and thrifty housekeepers are taking advantage of the splendid offerings we are making in linens to stock up their linen closets. Linens will be scarce and higher if present conditions continue, so take our advice—buy linen now.

SILENT SENTINELS TO PICKET WHITE HOUSE

Suffragists Adopt a New Policy in Effort to Stir
President.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Woman suffragists, after another futile appeal to President Wilson yesterday for his support to the Susan B. Anthony amendment, announced plans for retaliation by picketing the white house grounds with "silent sentinels."

Their purpose is to make it impossible for the president to enter or leave the white house without encountering a sentinel bearing some device pleading the suffrage cause.

The move was acknowledged to be a step in the new policy of mild militancy, which began with the coup in the house gallery on December 6, when a party of suffragists unfurled a "Votes for Women" banner while the president was making his opening address.

Raise $8,000 for Campaign.
What the white house authorities will do about the pickets the suffragists intend to leave for development. After the women had their audience today they returned to headquarters of the congressional union, formed their new plans and held a meeting pledging $8,000 for the "silent sentinel" campaign.

Headed by Miss Maud Younger and Mrs. Sara Bard Field, 300 suffragists from the congressional union went to see the president, ostensibly to present memorials on the death of Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain.

Because of the affair in the house gallery in December there was some difficulty in arranging the audience, but the president consented to receive the women.

Expresses His Surprise.
When they made it the occasion to renew their pleas that he support the suffrage amendment the president expressed his surprise, reminded the spokesman of the party that he had not been apprised of their full purpose and was not prepared to say any more than he had on previous occasions. He repeated that he believed personally in their cause, but as the leader of his party could not commit it to action it had not indorsed.

The president added he could not understand why women failed to realize that the democratic party had done more for suffrage than the republicans.

"I had not been apprised that you were coming here to make any representations or would issue an appeal to me," said the president. "I had been told that you were coming to present memorial resolutions with regard to the very remarkable woman whom your cause has lost. I therefore am not prepared to say anything further than I have said on previous occasions of this sort."

BOWSER PACEMAKERS BEGIN CONVENTION

Discuss Oil Tanks and Inter-spense Business With Pleasure.

The fifth annual convention of the Pacemakers club of S. F. Bowser & Company is on and it is the greatest gathering of business hustlers ever held in Fort Wayne. The last of the pacemakers arrived last evening and the convention opened at 9:30 o'clock this morning with an address of welcome by S. F. Bowser, president of the company, and a response by W. V. Crandall, president of the Pacemakers club. Then followed an address by President Bowser, his subject being

PRESIDENT S. F. BOWSER.

"The 1916 Hour Glass," in which he reviewed the business of the past year, expressing gratification at the volume, the credit for which he attributed to the hustling qualities of the pacemakers and other salesmen. He predicted a greater business for the year 1917.

Luncheon was announced immediately following President Bowser's address and the officials and pacemakers retired to the factory diningroom, where Chef Keller had a substantial feast spread. During the noon gathering Rev. J. A. Nipper made an address and Miss Paquette, daughter of

REV. IRA E. LANDRITH.

N. Paquette, one of the pacemakers' directors, sang several songs. The afternoon session was short, the program being continued to a talk by S. F. Bowser, general manager, on the subject of "The Road Ahead." Then the business session broke up and the officials and the pacemakers are spending the remaining hours of the afternoon in the shops, studying oil tank and pump construction, a subject with which they must be familiar to successfully conduct the business.

Landrith to Lecture.

One of the educational and one of the very interesting events of the Pacemakers club program will be the lecture at the Palace theater tonight of Rev. Ira E. Landrith, late candidate for vice president on the prohibition ticket, his subject being "Superior Salesmanship; or, The Art of Living at Level Best." This lecture will be preceded by a musical half hour, in which the Palace orchestra and the Sapara quartet, including Holland Murdock, tenor, baritone, and Peter Quarrel, tenor, will take part.

The program for tomorrow will include a "Paint Oil Talk," by W. B. Hance, the Canadian manager, "Dry Cleaning," by L. L. Walker, manager of the Ohio district, "Our Lady of the Snows," by T. H. Rhodes, of Toronto, "The Southland," by J. C. White, of Dallas, "The Golden West," by Frank Laughrey, of San Francisco, "The Rising Sun," by W. G. Chandler, of Washington, and an address by George S. Williams, assistant sales manager of the Studebaker Corporation, of Detroit, which will close the business meeting of the day. The evening will be spent playing pool, billiards and basket ball.

Banquet for Directors.

The banquet at the Anthony hotel last evening followed a day of jollity and sociability such as is only found at the Pacemakers' gatherings. The hosts at the banquet were the officers and directors of S. F. Bowser & Company, and the guests were the officers and directors of the Pacemakers' club, and the wives and other members of their families. Many of the parties were here last year and they sought out and enjoyed the company of the ladies and gentlemen they met last year. The banquet took on the character of a reunion to these. Following the dinner there was dancing to the music of the Carl Roemke orchestra, and during the banquet the

LECTURE AT COLONIAL

Electro-Technic Club Makes an Innovation.

The fourth number of events for the season of the Electro-Technic club will be an innovation. Instead of meeting at a hall, it will be held at the Colonial moving picture theater Tuesday evening, January 16. The lecturer will be Mr. Phillip, general manager of the Rothacker Film company, on "How Moving Pictures Are Made." It will be full of illustrations and very instructive and interesting. This will be one of the most interesting of the series of lectures on the 1916-1917 program.

"The consumption far exceeds the growth," Mr. Smith said, "and the situation is becoming worse each year."

A TURKEY DINNER NEXT.

The executive board of the volunteer firemen at the General Electric works have promised the firemen a feast some time this month that will "lay in the shade" all previous ones. The boys have had. BOWSER EMPLOYEES

GET BONUSES TODAY!

$17,500 Distributed in Office

Wednesday to Clerical

Force.

In order to put the clerks in the offices and the employees in the shops on "the level," as S. F. Bowser explained it, $17,500 were distributed among the office employees of the S. F. Bowser company Wednesday morning. Previous to this time bonus checks have been given to those employed in the shops, but office help was not in on that. The bonus given out Wednesday was to even this up, and represents five per cent. of the salaries for 1916.

For some time due to the rush under which the company was working, no system by which the office employees could be given bonuses was found. This has finally been worked out, however, and was announced at the large meeting held on the Saturday before Christmas.

Another bonus has now been installed and which will benefit all employees. Beginning January first, the High Cost of Living bonus was declared, which will be twelve per cent. of each month's salary and will be paid on the tenth of the following month. February tenth, every employee will get a check for one-eighth of his January salary, and the same thing will be done March tenth, the system to continue indefinitely.

PRISON CAMPS NOW PREPARE FOR PEACE

Teutonic Civilians on Isle of Man Plan to Go Back to Employment.

Douglas, Isle of Man, Dec. 15.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—They are busily engaged in preparing for peace in the prison camps on the Isle of Man.

Here are nearly 25,000 German and Austrian civilian prisoners. Many of them have been residents of the British isles for ten or fifteen years and expect to go back to their civilian employment as soon as peace comes.

Others have been in England for much shorter periods and plan to seek fresh fields. Hundreds would like to go to the United States. Two years of imprisonment has a sobering effect on the most frivolous, and the frame of mind of the interned prisoner is almost uniformly serious. Some are learning new trades, others studying the course of the war in map and book, with a view to being on the spot for post war developments of business and commerce.

Most of this preparation for peace is being done by the prisoners themselves. Their teachers are all from their own number and much of the equipment for the schools and workshops has been purchased through the British authorities with money supplied by well-to-do prisoners.

At the Knockalea camp there are about 22,000 prisoners. Four thousand of them are studying languages, engineering, geography and kindred subjects or learning trades. Others are at work as gardeners, farmers, roadmakers or chefs.

The work which a prisoner takes up in the prison schools is frequently an index to some new field of activity which he is planning to enter after the war. Those studying Polish are casting their eyes on the prospect in the new kingdom of Poland, while those who are devoting their energies to Spanish are generally looking forward to opportunity in South America.

All this work is under leaders chosen by the men themselves with the approval of their British guardians.

WILL SEE BIG GAME.

President S. F. Bowser, of S. F. Bowser & Company, purchased 50 tickets to the basketball game at St. Paul's hall, on Barr street, Thursday evening, and has invited the Pacemakers' club to be his guests. It will be a "double-header" entertainment, the games being between the Bowser and the Pennsylvania team and the Dudio and the General Electric teams, members of the Industrial league.

WEDNESDAY IS DULL DAY IN LOCAL MART

Drop in Wheat is Expected by Millers in Few Days.

Wednesday was an eventless day to those who have nothing to do but watch the markets. There was only one thing to do that was prophesied the drop in wheat, which is expected to come at any time. A small sensation in wheat on the Chicago market before the end of the week. At least so one miller thinks, but he could make no statement as to how much the price would fall off.

Another commonplace day was passed on the city scales, the receipts being neither extremely heavy nor extremely light. Twenty-one loads of hay were weighed again Wednesday, as on Tuesday, but the price for which they were sold settled back to $10.00 to $12.00. Ten loads of corn brought the same price as the day before, 94 to 95 cents, and oats furnished the one variation, seven loads bringing from 53 to 55 cents, instead of 52 to 55 cents, which has been the price for several days.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Wheat prices rallied today from transient weakness due to inference that the German chancellor would soon make a new move to bring about peace. Selling pressure, however, was not heavy, and it took but little fresh buying to cause a recovery. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 3¢ lower, with May at $1.85¢@1.87 and July at $1.50¢@1.50¢, were followed by a substantial setback all around, but then a rise that in some cases showed a moderate net gain.

Corn paralleled the netting of wheat. After opening 3¢ to 5¢ off the market here sagged a little further before turning up. Trade in oats was entirely local. Liberal receipts of hogs throughout the west weakened provisions.

Toledo Closing Prices.

Hathaway, Indiana's 1917
Football Captain, Has Appointment.

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 10.—Indiana university may lose Captain-elect Russell G. Hathaway of the 1917 football eleven at the close of the present year as it is reported that he is considering accepting an appointment to West Point at that time. It has been known that he had received an appointment to the United States military academy, but it was thought that he would remain at Indiana until he had completed his four year course in June, 1915.

According to reports Hathaway fears he will lose the appointment if he waits another year and has concluded to accept at the close of the present school year in June. He has declined, however, to affirm or deny the reports.

Hathaway is from Linton, Ind., the home of Edmer Q. Oliphant, the former Purdue university star, who won the highest possible athletic honors at West Point during the past season. It is thought Oliphant was instrumental in getting the appointment for Hathaway.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 10.—Frank G. Jones, the millionaire horseman of Memphis, is getting his stable of Grand Circuit performers ready for the 1917 campaign. Jones owns four of the fastest horses in the country—Anvil, 2:03 1/4; Duple Archdale, 2:03 1/4; Blavah, 2:03 1/4; and St. Frisco, 2:03 1/4.

These fliers have won a large number of rich stakes for the Jones stable. Duple Archdale, which completed several seasons, won $17,485. Blavah has pulled down $37,528.75. St. Frisco won $27,156 last season and Anvil landed $19,800.

Minneapolis, Jan. 10.—Twelve basketball games have been scheduled for the University of Minnesota team for the western conference season. The schedule follows:

Jan. 13—Wisconsin at Minnesota.
Jan. 22—Illinois at Minnesota.
Jan. 27—Minnesota at Northwestern
Feb. 3—Ohio at Minnesota.
Feb. 10—Minnesota at Illinois.
Feb. 12—Minnesota at Ohio.
Feb. 17—Minnesota at Chicago.
Feb. 19—Minnesota at Iowa.
Feb. 22—Chicago at Minnesota.
March 2—Iowa at Minnesota.
March 10—Minnesota at Wisconsin.
March 12—Northwestern at Minnesota.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 10.—Yean Gregg, one of the pitchers on the world's championship Boston club, is anxious to be traded. Gregg asserts that he wants a regular turn on the mound and says that with pitchers Ruth, Foster, Mays and Shore on the Boston team there seems to be little room for him. When he joined Boston last season, after being traded by Cleveland, his arm was sore and most of his work was confined to batting practice. Yean says he is ready to work regularly with any club that will buy his release from Boston.

EDDIE PANK

May Go to Yankees, But Will Retire Before Playing With Browns.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 10.—Eddie Pank, the veteran southpaw with the St. Louis Browns last season, may wear a New York Yankee uniform in 1917. It is understood that the owners of the New York club are in a receptive mood as regards the acquisition of Pank, although they seem unwilling to trade any promising young material. Pank notified Manager Fielder Jones that he would retire from the game rather than plan another season in St. Louis. He played two years there. Pank asked to be traded or sold to some eastern club.

Pank's work last season ranked him among the best in the league. He finished twelfth among the twirlers in regard to earned runs off his delivery. In 37 games pitching 235 2-3 innings, 857 batters opposed him. He was hit safely 203 times, and charged with 61 earned runs. He finished the season with an average of 2.33 earned runs per game.

Pank is past 40 years old but still

FINE CHANCE TO FOOL KID BROAD

Kid Broad, that famous character, has been making his living lately by acting in the movies. Whenever a director looks about for some tough mug to portray a character, Broad comes close to filling the bill. Recently Broad has been supporting Francis X. Bushman in "The Great Secret." Knowing this, some of the Kid's friends stopped him along Broadway.

"We hear you're supporting Francis Bushman?" they asked.

"Support that guy," responded the Kid. "He's got plenty of coin; he don't need anyone to keep him."

February 1 is the date set by the contractors when the addition to the Hamilton school, on Pontiac street, is to be completed and ready for occupancy. This announcement was made to the school board at its meeting held recently. Work on the building has been delayed to a great extent due to the failure of the arrival of supplies used in the construction of the building. The building will be completed so that it can be occupied at the beginning of the second semester of work. The architect for the building and the contractors in charge of the work met with the school board at its meeting held Monday evening.

PURDUE ALUMNI

The members of the Purdue alumni in this city met informally Tuesday evening to bid farewell to one of their number, who is leaving the city. At the same meeting they welcomed a newcomer: C. L. Lett, '15, of the electrical engineering department, who has been employed at the Electric works, is leaving for Newton, Ia., where he has accepted a position with the Maytag company. R. F. Smith, the newcomer, is a Purdue man of the class of 1905.

O. B. Rhinehart acted as toastmaster and the following responded to the toasts wishing Mr. Lett all kinds of success: E. E. Miles, F. C. Rapp, R. M. Kuntze, Leo Hines, W. H. Sunier and Tom Kelly.

Secretary J. C. Howenstein, of the Great Triangle show, states that a large number of admission tickets are being purchased this season in advance, especially in the factories. Fort Wayne has hundreds of small poultry raisers and all of these take an interest in the forthcoming exhibit. The exhibition hall is two squares north of the court house—the former plant of the Boss Manufacturing Co.

A nitrogen plant will be erected at Arlington, Va.
